

Contents

Chapter 1

Preliminary Issues

1.1	Scope and Organization of This Treatise	1
1.1.1	Introduction	1
1.1.2	The Chapters and Appendices	1
1.1.3	Companion Material	1
1.1.4	Authorities Cited in This Treatise	2
1.2	Predispute Binding Arbitration Agreement—or “Forced Arbitration” Agreement—Defined	2
1.3	Why Many Consumers Try to Avoid Predispute Binding Arbitration	3
1.3.1	Introduction	3
1.3.2	Limitations on Class Actions	4
1.3.3	Concerns About Arbitrators’ Impartiality	5
1.3.4	Secrecy in Arbitration	7
1.3.5	Limitations on Discovery	8
1.3.6	Arbitration Fees	9
1.3.7	Other Concerns	10
1.4	Studies of Consumer Arbitration	11
1.5	Consumer Arbitration and the National Arbitration Forum	12
1.6	Corporations Avoid Binding Arbitration When It Applies to Them	13
1.7	Upcoming Developments in Consumer Arbitration Law	14

Chapter 2

Threshold Issues for Challenges to Arbitration Clauses

2.1	Introduction	17
2.2	Who Decides Challenges to an Arbitration Clause—Courts or Arbitrators?	17
2.2.1	Introduction	17
2.2.2	General Rule: Gateway Issues Are for the Court	17
2.2.3	When Arbitration Agreement Delegates Enforceability Issues to the Arbitrator	18
2.2.4	Distinguishing Challenges to the Arbitration Clause Versus the Whole Contract	18
2.3	Federal Jurisdiction over Actions to Compel Arbitration	18
2.3.1	Introduction	18
2.3.2	Federal Question Jurisdiction	19
2.3.3	Federal Diversity Jurisdiction	20
2.3.3.1	Is There Diversity?	20
2.3.3.2	Calculating the Amount in Controversy	21
2.3.4	Should Federal Court Abstain from Ruling on Arbitration Requirement?	22
2.3.5	Does Rooker-Feldman Doctrine Prevent a Section 4 Federal Court Action?	22
2.3.6	Venue	23
2.3.7	Other Jurisdictional Issues	24
2.4	Right to Discovery Relating to Enforceability of Arbitration Clause	24
2.5	Right to Jury Trial to Determine Arbitration Enforceability	27

2.6	Appeal from Judicial Orders Relating to Arbitration	29
2.6.1	Introduction	29
2.6.2	Interlocutory Federal Appeals of Orders Denying Arbitration	29
2.6.3	Federal Appeals of Orders Enforcing Arbitration Requirement	30
2.6.4	Pendent Jurisdiction over Orders Compelling Arbitration	33
2.6.5	Appealability of State Court Arbitration Orders	33

Chapter 3

The Federal Arbitration Act and the Preemption of State Law

3.1	The Federal Arbitration Act and the Role of State Law in Regulating Arbitration	35
3.2	Important Role of State Law in Regulating the Formation and Enforcement of Arbitration Clauses	35
3.2.1	Introduction	35
3.2.2	State Law Regulating the Formation of Arbitration Agreements	35
3.2.3	State Law Regarding the Enforcement of Arbitration Agreements	36
3.3	FAA Preemption of State Limits to the Enforceability of Arbitration Agreements	37
3.3.1	General	37
3.3.2	When State Law Singles Out Arbitration Clauses As Inherently Problematic or Inferior to Litigation	37
3.3.2.1	Supreme Court Case Law	37
3.3.2.2	Application in the Lower Courts and the Rule’s Limits	38
3.3.3	State Laws That Interfere with the Fundamental Attributes of Arbitration	41
3.3.3.1	Concepcion and Its Application	41
3.3.3.2	Concepcion ’s Limits	43
3.4	Nonpreempted State Laws That Expressly Regulate Arbitration	44
3.4.1	Overview	44
3.4.2	State Laws That Govern the Formation of Arbitration Clauses	45
3.4.3	The “Market Participant” Exception	45
3.4.4	Qui Tam Provisions	45
3.4.5	Claims Regarding Insurance	46
3.4.5.1	General	46
3.4.5.2	Was the State Law Intended to Regulate Insurance?	47
3.4.5.3	Does State Insurance Law Restrict the Enforceability of Arbitration Agreements?	48
3.4.6	FAA Only Applies to Transactions Involving Interstate Commerce	49
3.4.6.1	FAA Virtually Always Applies	49
3.4.6.2	Even If FAA Does Not Apply, Most States Enforce Arbitration Agreements on Similar Terms	52
3.4.7	Parties May Contract to Have State Law Displace FAA with Respect to the Arbitrability of Disputes	52
3.4.8	Regulation of Arbitration Administrators	54
3.5	Limited FAA Preemption of State Procedural Law	54
3.5.1	Introduction	54
3.5.2	FAA Generally Does Not Preempt State Procedural Rules Addressing Enforcement of Arbitration Agreements	55
3.5.3	FAA Procedural Provisions, by Their Own Terms, Apply Only to Federal Court Actions	55

Chapter 4

Federal Limits on the Enforceability of Arbitration Requirements

4.1	Introduction	59
4.2	Explicit Federal Limits on Arbitration	59
4.2.1	Overview	59

4.2.2	Federal Law Now Prohibits Mandatory Arbitration in Mortgage Loans . . .	60
4.2.2.1	In General	60
4.2.2.2	Retroactive Application	60
4.2.3	Certain Consumer Credit Contracts with Active Duty Military Personnel or Their Dependents	61
4.2.4	CFPB Authority to Restrict Arbitration Agreements	61
4.2.5	Executive Order Limiting Arbitration in Certain Employment Contracts	62
4.3	Conflicts Between the FAA and Other Federal Statutes	62
4.3.1	General Standards	62
4.3.1.1	Congressional Intent Determines Whether FAA Is Overridden . .	62
4.3.1.2	Does Arbitration Allow Vindication of Statute’s Purpose?	63
4.3.2	The Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act	63
4.3.2.1	General	63
4.3.2.2	The Text and Structure of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act . . .	64
4.3.2.3	The Act’s Legislative History	65
4.3.2.4	The Act’s Implementing Regulations	65
4.3.2.5	Mandatory Arbitration Is an Informal Dispute Resolution Mechanism	66
4.3.2.6	Affected Claims If Magnuson-Moss Limits Binding Arbitration	66
4.3.2.7	Binding Arbitration Clauses, When Permitted, Must Still Comply with the Act’s Provisions Concerning Disclosures and Tie-Ins	67
4.3.2.7.1	Introduction	67
4.3.2.7.2	Arbitration requirement must be disclosed in written warranties	67
4.3.2.7.3	Significance of disclosure requirement	68
4.3.2.7.4	Does disclosure requirement extend to service contracts and extended warranties?	69
4.3.2.7.5	Does Magnuson-Moss Act prohibit merchant’s designation of arbitration service provider?	69
4.3.3	Claims Asserted in Bankruptcy	69
4.3.3.1	Introduction	69
4.3.3.2	Conflict Between Bankruptcy Code and FAA	70
4.3.3.3	Zimmerman , the 1984 Amendments, and Subsequent Case Law	70
4.3.3.4	Court Need Not Require Arbitration of Core Matters	71
4.3.3.5	Claims Asserted on Behalf of Bankruptcy Estate	73
4.3.3.6	Application to Consumer Cases	74
4.3.3.7	Non-Core Matters Subject to Arbitration	77
4.3.3.8	Confirmed Plan Can Bar Enforcement of Arbitration Clause . . .	77
4.3.4	No Conflict Between FAA and Credit Repair Organizations Act	77
4.3.5	The Carmack Amendment and the FAA	78
4.3.6	FAA Conflict with Federal Employment Statutes	78
4.3.7	The FTC Act and the FAA	80
4.4	Arbitration Clauses That Explicitly Limit Consumers’ Statutory Rights	80
4.4.1	General Principles	80
4.4.1.1	Arbitration Clause Cannot Limit Federal Statutory Rights	80
4.4.1.2	Statutory Remedies Serve Three Functions	81
4.4.1.3	Severability	82

4.4.1.4	Unconscionability and When the FAA Conflicts with State Law	82
4.4.2	Limitations on Specific Statutory Rights	82
4.4.2.1	Arbitration Clauses That Limit Statutory Right to Attorney Fees and Costs	82
4.4.2.2	When Arbitration, But Not Statute, Applies Loser Pays Rule	83
4.4.2.3	Limits on Statutory Right to Punitive Damages	83
4.4.2.4	Limits on Statutory Right to Proceed As a Class	85
4.4.2.5	Limits on Statutory Right to Injunctive Relief	86
4.4.2.6	Shortening of a Statute of Limitation	86
4.5	High Arbitration Fees Effectively Prevent Vindication of Statutory Rights	87
4.5.1	Introduction	87
4.5.2	The Supreme Court's Green Tree Decision	87
4.5.3	When Are Arbitration Charges Inconsistent with a Federal Statute?	88
4.5.3.1	When Charges Exceed Those for a Court Action	88
4.5.3.2	When Charges Deter Pursuit of Statutory Claims	88
4.5.4	Does Reimbursement of Fees to a Prevailing Consumer Cure the Problem?	90
4.6	When a Party's One-Sided Control over the Arbitration Process Prevents Effective Vindication of Statutory Rights	90

Chapter 5

Formation of Agreement to Arbitrate

5.1	General	93
5.1.1	No Presumption That Arbitration Agreement Is Formed; Court Must Decide	93
5.1.2	Growing State Court Interest in Formation Issues	95
5.2	Assent to Arbitration Agreement Is Required	95
5.2.1	General	95
5.2.2	Express Assent	96
5.2.2.1	Assent by Signature	96
5.2.2.2	Must the Arbitration Clause Be Initialed?	97
5.2.2.3	Consumer Attempts to Modify a Signed Agreement to Exclude Arbitration Requirement	98
5.2.2.4	Must Both Parties Sign the Agreement?	98
5.2.2.5	Incorporation of Arbitration Agreement by Reference into Signed Contract	98
5.2.2.6	Electronic Assent	99
5.2.2.7	Forged Signatures and Fraud in the Factum	100
5.2.2.8	When Signature Merely Acknowledges Receipt and Other Situations in Which Signature Is Not Enough	102
5.2.2.9	Can a Third Party's Signature Bind the Consumer?	103
5.2.3	Implied Assent Based on Conduct or Reliance	103
5.2.3.1	Overview	103
5.2.3.2	Notice Requirement	103
5.2.3.2.1	General	103
5.2.3.2.2	Availability of notice insufficient; notice must be delivered	104
5.2.3.2.3	Proof of delivery	105
5.2.3.2.4	The mailbox rule: notices sent by mail	106
5.2.3.2.5	Notice must be conspicuous so that consumer aware of its contents	107
5.2.3.3	Action Sufficient to Signify Acceptance Is Required	108

5.2.3.3.1 General 108

5.2.3.3.2 Continued employment or use of a credit card as acceptance 108

5.2.3.3.3 When consumer does not continue using the card 109

5.2.3.3.4 Performance under a contract as acceptance 110

5.2.3.3.5 Reliance on accompanying contract terms as acceptance 110

5.2.4 Lack of Capacity to Assent 111

5.3 Mutuality, Illusory Agreements, and the Requirement of Consideration 111

5.3.1 Must the Arbitration Requirement Be Mutual? 111

5.3.2 Failure of Other Consideration 113

5.3.3 No Consideration When Arbitration Agreement Is Made with Arbitration Service Provider 114

5.3.4 Does a Unilateral Change-of-Terms Provision Render the Arbitration Agreement Illusory? 114

5.4 Language of Arbitration Clause Must Be Clear and Unambiguous 116

5.4.1 General 116

5.4.2 When Contract Merely Refers to an Arbitration Requirement 118

5.4.3 When Multiple Arbitration Agreements Conflict 118

5.4.4 When Terms in Arbitration Clause Are Missing or Conflict 118

5.5 Waiver of Right to Jury Trial Must Be Knowing and Voluntary 119

5.5.1 Introduction to the Doctrine 119

5.5.2 The Doctrine and FAA Preemption 120

5.5.3 Examples of Application of the Doctrine 120

5.5.4 Application of the Doctrine to Waiver of Statutory Rights 122

5.5.5 Cases Rejecting the Doctrine 122

5.6 Arbitration Clauses Sent Unilaterally After Agreement Reached 123

5.6.1 Introduction 123

5.6.2 Arbitration Clause Unilaterally Added After Agreement Is Consummated 123

5.6.3 Final Agreement Not Reached Until After Purchase Is Delivered 125

5.6.4 Arbitration Agreement Added or Amended As a Change in Terms 126

5.6.4.1 Introduction 126

5.6.4.2 Cases Holding That “Change-in-Terms” Provisions Do Not Allow the Addition of an Arbitration Clause 126

5.6.4.3 Contracts Permitting Issuers to Add New Terms 127

5.6.4.4 The Delaware Legislation 128

5.7 “Yo-Yo” Sales and Other Condition Precedent Contracts 128

5.8 When Designated Arbitration Forum Is Unavailable 129

5.8.1 Designated Forum Unavailable with Surprising Frequency 129

5.8.2 When Arbitration Agreement Lists Alternative Forums 130

5.8.3 When Forum’s Unavailability Makes Arbitration Requirement Unenforceable 130

5.8.3.1 General 130

5.8.3.2 Language Indicating That the Forum Designation Is Integral 132

5.8.3.3 Language Indicating That the Forum Designation Is Ancillary 133

5.8.3.4 Effect of Arbitration Agreement Only Specifying Use of NAF Rules 133

5.8.3.5 Unavailability of a Tribal Forum 134

5.9 Unconscionability As a Formation Issue 135

Chapter 6

Unconscionability and Other Contract Law Defenses to Arbitration Clauses

6.1	Introduction	137
6.2	Preemption and Unconscionability	138
6.3	Who Decides Unconscionability Challenge: Court or Arbitrator?	139
6.4	General Unconscionability Standards	141
6.5	Relationship Between Procedural and Substantive Unconscionability	142
6.6	Procedural Unconscionability	145
6.6.1	Contracts of Adhesion—Enough in Some States, Merely a Factor in Others	145
6.6.2	Surprise As a Factor in Procedural Unconscionability	149
6.6.2.1	General	149
6.6.2.2	Developing the Facts to Support Allegation of Surprise	150
6.6.2.3	Factors Indicating Surprise	151
6.6.3	Meaningful Choice As a Factor	155
6.7	Substantively Unconscionable Arbitration Provisions	157
6.7.1	Introduction	157
6.7.2	Excessive Fees and Costs	158
6.7.2.1	Demonstrating That the Arbitration Fees Will, in Fact, Be Excessive	158
6.7.2.2	AAA Fees for Consumer Cases	161
6.7.2.3	Varying Approaches As to Who Pays the Fees	162
6.7.2.4	Precedent Regarding Unconscionable Arbitration Fees	162
6.7.3	One-Way or Non-Mutual Arbitration Clauses Are Often Unconscionable	165
6.7.3.1	Introduction	165
6.7.3.2	Non-Mutuality Rendering Clause Unconscionable Distinguished from Non-Mutuality Creating Lack of Consideration for Agreement	165
6.7.3.3	Cases Finding Non-Mutuality to Be Unconscionable	166
6.7.3.4	Cases Not Finding Non-Mutuality to Be Unconscionable	168
6.7.3.5	Non-Mutual Clauses That Appear to Be Mutual	169
6.7.3.6	Non-Mutual Appeal Rights Rendering Clause Unconscionable	170
6.7.4	Clauses That Strip Statutory Remedies	171
6.7.4.1	Limitation on Damages	171
6.7.4.2	Limitation on Attorney Fees	174
6.7.4.3	Limitation on Injunctive and Equitable Relief	174
6.7.4.4	Shortened Statute of Limitations	175
6.7.4.5	High Arbitration Fees Accentuate Problem of Remedy Stripping Provisions	176
6.7.5	Class Action Bans Embedded in Arbitration Clauses	176
6.7.5.1	Class Action Bans Before Concepcion	176
6.7.5.2	The Concepcion Decision	178
6.7.5.3	Challenging Class Action Bans After Concepcion	178
6.7.5.3.1	Overview	178
6.7.5.3.2	Class action bans are enforceable even when they prevent parties from pursuing their legal claims	179
6.7.5.3.3	Concepcion does not require enforcement of a class action ban that would conflict with federal law	179
6.7.5.3.4	Miscellaneous rules concerning arbitration which survive Concepcion	179
6.7.6	Inconvenient Venue for Arbitration	181

6.7.7	Bias of Arbitrator or Arbitration Mechanism	182
6.7.7.1	General	182
6.7.7.2	Defenses to Bias Allegations	186
6.7.8	Secrecy Provisions	186
6.7.8.1	Introduction	186
6.7.8.2	Cases Finding Mandatory Confidentiality to Be Unconscionable	187
6.7.8.3	Cases Finding Mandatory Confidentiality Not to Be Unconscionable	189
6.7.9	Loser Pays Rules	189
6.7.10	Excessive Limitations on Discovery	191
6.8	Remedies When Part, or Parts, of an Arbitration Clause Are Unconscionable . .	192
6.8.1	Introduction	192
6.8.2	Party That Drafted Unconscionable Clause Should Not Receive Court’s Assistance	192
6.8.3	Interdependent Aspects of Arbitration Clause Should Not Be Severed . .	195
6.9	Miscellaneous Contract Defenses Other Than Unconscionability	197
6.9.1	Fraud in the Inducement Related to the Arbitration Clause Itself	197
6.9.2	Impossibility, Infancy, Undue Influence, Breach of Covenant of Good Faith, and Other Common Law Contract Defenses	198
6.9.3	State Statutes That Regulate Contract Terms	199
6.9.4	Was the Arbitration Agreement Rescinded or Superseded?	199
6.9.4.1	TILA Rescission and Other Three-Day Rights to Cancel	199
6.9.4.2	Document Containing Arbitration Clause Is Superseded by Later Document or Does Not Survive Termination of the Contract	200

Chapter 7

Arbitration Clause’s Applicability to Particular Claims or Parties

7.1	Introduction	205
7.2	General Standards of Interpretation	205
7.3	Limits to Federal Policy Favoring Arbitration	205
7.3.1	Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital v. Mercury Construction Corp.	205
7.3.2	Narrow Reading of Federal Policy Favoring Arbitration	206
7.3.3	When Federal Policy Is Not Applicable	206
7.3.4	Federal Policy Applies Only When Intent Is Ambiguous	207
7.3.5	Ambiguous Clauses Are Interpreted Against the Drafter	208
7.3.6	Characterizing Challenges As Relating to Formation and Not Scope . . .	209
7.4	Whether Particular Claims Fall Within an Arbitration Clause	209
7.4.1	General	209
7.4.2	Does the Court or Arbitrator Decide Scope Issues?	209
7.4.3	“Arising Under” or “Arising Out Of” Language	212
7.4.4	Broad Language	213
7.4.5	Narrowly Written Clauses	214
7.4.6	Application to Tort and Statutory Claims	216
7.4.6.1	The Significant Relationship Test	216
7.4.6.2	Examples of Claims Falling Outside the Agreement’s Scope . .	218
7.4.6.3	Relationship of Claim to the Contract	219
7.4.6.4	Is Breach of Contract a Necessary Element of Tort Claim?	219
7.4.6.5	The Foreseeability Test	220
7.4.6.6	Scope Issues Dependent on Facts and Not Blanket Rules	220
7.4.6.7	Agreement’s Applicability to Employment Tort and Statutory Claims	223

7.4.7	Disputes As to Whether the Arbitration Agreement Was Formed	223
7.4.8	Arbitration Clause Does Not Apply to Consumer’s Self-Help Remedies	224
7.4.9	The Temporal Scope of an Arbitration Provision	224
7.4.9.1	Application to Events Occurring Prior to Consummation of Arbitration Agreement	224
7.4.9.2	Application to Events Occurring After the Agreement’s Expiration	226
7.4.10	Whether One Contract’s Arbitration Clause Applies to Claims Arising from Another Contract	228
7.4.11	When Some Claims Are Within the Arbitration Clause’s Scope and Some Are Not	231
7.5	Arbitration Agreement’s Application to Non-Signatories: General Principles	233
7.5.1	Overview	233
7.5.2	Does Federal or State Law Determine Rights of Non-Signatory?	235
7.5.3	Equitable Estoppel	236
7.5.3.1	Overview	236
7.5.3.2	Equitable Estoppel When Non-Signatory Seeks to Enforce the Arbitration Agreement	236
7.5.3.2.1	General principles	236
7.5.3.2.2	Relationship between signatory-plaintiff’s claims and the underlying contract	237
7.5.3.2.3	Relationship between non-signatory defendant’s misconduct and a signatory’s misconduct	240
7.5.3.2.4	Over-expansion of the doctrine	243
7.5.3.2.5	Why the doctrine should not be expanded.	243
7.5.3.2.6	Cases against payment processors and originating banks	244
7.5.3.3	Equitable Estoppel When a Signatory Seeks to Enforce the Arbitration Agreement Against a Non-Signatory	245
7.5.4	Third-Party Beneficiaries	248
7.5.5	Agency	251
7.5.5.1	Is There an Agency Relationship?	251
7.5.5.2	Does Agency Extend the Reach of an Arbitration Agreement?	251
7.5.5.3	Examining the Contract’s Intent	253
7.5.5.4	Limits on Agency’s Expansion of Reach of Arbitration Agreement	254
7.6	Application of Arbitration Agreement to Non-Signatories: Specific Situations	255
7.6.1	Assignees and Successors-in-Interest	255
7.6.2	Insurers, Manufacturers, Service Contractors, Attorneys, and Owners	256
7.6.3	Debt Buyers and Debt Collectors	256
7.6.3.1	Debt Buyer or Collector Must Produce the Arbitration Agreement	256
7.6.3.2	Debt Buyer’s Right to Enforce Creditor’s Arbitration Agreement	257
7.6.3.3	Debt Collector’s Right to Enforce Creditor’s Arbitration Agreement	258
7.6.4	Claims on Behalf of Nursing Facility Residents	259
7.6.4.1	Background	259
7.6.4.2	Family Member’s Signature Not Binding on Patient	259
7.6.4.3	Is Resident a Third-Party Beneficiary?	261

7.6.4.4	Does the Designated Arbitration Forum Handle Nursing Facility Disputes?	263
7.6.5	Wrongful Death Claims	263
7.6.6	Guarantors and Sureties	264
7.6.7	When Some Parties Are Subject to the Arbitration Clause and Some Are Not	265
7.6.8	Application of Arbitration Agreement to Enforcement Agencies and Contempt Proceedings	267
7.6.9	Can Affinity Group’s Agreement Bind Its Members?	268
7.7	Does the Agreement Require Binding, FAA Arbitration?	268

Chapter 8

Waiver of the Right to Compel Arbitration

8.1	Introduction	269
8.2	Does State or Federal Law Apply?	270
8.3	Waiver Because of Litigation Conduct	271
8.3.1	Court Decides Whether There Is a Waiver	271
8.3.2	Litigation-Related Actions That Waive the Right to Compel Arbitration	273
8.3.2.1	The Totality of Circumstances Test	273
8.3.2.2	Pre-Suit Litigation-Related Conduct	275
8.3.2.3	Filing Pleadings	277
8.3.2.4	Motions and Asking the Court to Address the Merits	279
8.3.2.5	Conducting Discovery	281
8.3.2.6	Delay	283
8.3.2.7	Waiver in the Class Action Context	285
8.3.2.8	Other Actions Constituting Waiver	286
8.3.2.9	Other Actions Not Constituting Waiver	287
8.3.3	No Waiver When Motion to Compel Arbitration Was Futile Prior to Change in the Law?	288
8.3.4	Revival of Right to Compel Arbitration After an Amended Complaint	289
8.4	Breach of Arbitration Clause’s Provisions As Waiver	290
8.4.1	In General	290
8.4.2	Procedure and Arbitrability	291
8.4.3	Breach of an Arbitration Clause’s Covenant of Good Faith	291
8.4.4	Breach of an Arbitration Clause’s Provisions for Payment of Forum Costs	292
8.5	Is Prejudice a Requirement or Factor to Establish Waiver?	292
8.5.1	Cases Are Divided on Whether Prejudice Is Required	292
8.5.2	Demonstrating Prejudice	294
8.6	Defenses to Waiver Based Upon Contract Terms or Arbitral Rules	296

Chapter 9

Arbitration of Claims on a Classwide Basis

9.1	Introduction	299
9.2	Does Arbitration Agreement Allow Classwide Relief?	299
9.2.1	Arbitrability of Question Whether Class Arbitration May Proceed	299
9.2.2	The Parties’ Intent	300
9.2.3	Factors Indicating That a Silent Clause Authorizes Class Arbitration	301
9.2.4	When Arbitration Agreement Appears to Prohibit Class Arbitration	302
9.2.5	Procedures for Reviewing an Arbitrator’s Determination on the Availability of Class Arbitration	302
9.2.5.1	Limits to Court Review of the Award’s Merits	302

9.2.5.2	Will a Court Allow Interlocutory Review?	303
9.2.5.3	Other Procedural Limits to Court Review	303
9.3	Procedures for Arbitration of Class Claims	304
9.3.1	Importance of the Arbitration Forum	304
9.3.2	AAA Classwide Arbitration Rules	304
9.3.3	JAMS Classwide Arbitration Rules	304
9.3.4	When an Arbitration Agreement Specifies NAF Rules	305
9.4	Limited Judicial Review of Arbitrator’s Certification Award	306
9.5	Confirmation of a Class Arbitration Award	306

Chapter 10

	Judicial Review and Effect of the Arbitration Award
10.1	Overview	307
10.2	Procedure to Confirm, Vacate, or Modify an Award	308
10.2.1	The Proper Court	308
10.2.2	Does State or Federal Law Apply?	309
10.2.3	Strict Timing Requirements	311
10.2.3.1	Short Period to Vacate or Modify an Award	311
10.2.3.2	Longer Period to Confirm an Award	312
10.2.3.3	Barriers to Vacating an Award at the Confirmation Hearing	313
10.2.4	Arbitration Agreement Must Be Produced at the Confirmation Hearing	313
10.2.5	Can the Parties, by Contract, Alter the Nature of Judicial Review?	314
10.2.5.1	Contract Cannot Limit Court’s Power to Vacate or Modify an Award	314
10.2.5.2	Arbitration Agreements That Increase the Scope of Judicial Review	314
10.2.6	Appeals of Trial Court Review of Arbitration Award	315
10.3	Grounds to Modify or Correct an Award	315
10.4	Grounds to Vacate Explicitly Set Out by Statute	316
10.4.1	General	316
10.4.2	When Arbitrators Exceed Their Powers or There is No Arbitration Agreement	316
10.4.3	Arbitrator’s Evident Partiality or Corruption	318
10.4.3.1	General	318
10.4.3.2	California Statutes Requiring Disclosures by Arbitrators	320
10.4.3.3	Ex Parte Communications	320
10.4.3.4	Equal Protection in Selection of Arbitrator	321
10.4.4	Arbitrator’s Refusal to Postpone the Hearing or to Hear Evidence or Other Misbehavior	321
10.4.5	Award Procured by Corruption, Fraud, or Undue Means	321
10.5	Vacating an Award Based on Its Merits	322
10.5.1	Are There Independent Grounds to Vacate on the Merits?	322
10.5.2	The Manifest Disregard of the Law Standard	323
10.5.2.1	General	323
10.5.2.2	Manifest Disregard After Hall Street Associates	325
10.5.2.3	When Arbitrator Does Not Explain the Decision	326
10.5.2.4	A Different Standard for Statutory Claims?	326
10.5.3	Must Courts Ensure Arbitration Decision Is Consistent with Public Policy?	327
10.5.4	Arbitrary and Capricious Awards	328
10.5.5	Can the Court Re-Examine Evidence?	328
10.5.6	Review of Award Affecting Individual Not Party to Arbitration Agreement	328

10.6	Arbitral Immunity	329
10.7	Protecting the Arbitrator’s Punitive Damages Award	330
10.7.1	Introduction	330
10.7.2	Is a Challenge to a Punitive Damages Award Timely and Brought in the Correct Court?	330
10.7.3	Does the Award Exceed the Arbitrator’s Powers?	330
10.7.3.1	Introduction	330
10.7.3.2	Does the Arbitration Agreement Limit the Arbitrator’s Authority to Award Punitive Damages?	330
10.7.3.3	Do the Rules of the Arbitration Service Provider Limit the Arbitrator’s Authority to Award Punitive Damages?	331
10.7.3.4	Does State Law Limit the Arbitrator’s Authority to Award Punitive Damages?	331
10.7.3.4.1	Few state laws limit punitive damages in arbitration	331
10.7.3.4.2	FAA preempts state law limitations on punitive damages	332
10.7.3.4.3	Do general state law limits on punitive damages apply in arbitration?	332
10.7.4	Has the Arbitrator Disregarded the Law or Facts?	332
10.7.5	Does a Punitive Damages Award Violate Public Policy?	333
10.7.6	Due Process Challenges to Punitive Damages Awards	333
10.8	Arbitration and Issue or Claim Preclusion	334
10.8.1	Introduction	334
10.8.2	Arbitration’s Preclusive Effect on Subsequent Court Proceeding	334
10.8.3	Preclusive Effect of Arbitration or Court Ruling on Subsequent Arbitration	334

Chapter 11

Creditor’s Use of Arbitration to Collect Consumer Debts

11.1	About This Chapter	337
11.2	How Collection Using Arbitration Works	337
11.3	Options After Receiving a Notice of Arbitration	338
11.3.1	Doing Nothing	338
11.3.2	Seeking a Stay of Arbitration	338
11.3.3	Participating in the Arbitration Proceeding	339
11.3.3.1	Implications of Consumer’s Participation on Later Court Proceedings	339
11.3.3.2	Participation May Result in Increased Consumer Liability	340
11.3.3.3	How to Participate in the Arbitration	340
11.4	Vacatur of an Arbitration Award	340
11.4.1	Introduction	340
11.4.2	Timeliness	340
11.4.3	Applicable Law, Jurisdiction, and Venue	341
11.4.4	Grounds for Vacating an Award in a Debt Collection Case	341
11.4.4.1	No Enforceable Arbitration Agreement	341
11.4.4.2	Lack of Notice of the Arbitration Proceeding	343
11.4.4.3	Lack of a Required In-Person Hearing	344
11.4.4.4	Failure to Follow the Arbitration Agreement or Arbitration Forum Rules	344
11.4.4.5	Arbitrator Improperly Selected	344
11.4.4.6	Inconvenient Venue	345
11.4.4.7	Arbitration Award Is Contrary to the Law or Facts	345

11.4.4.8	Arbitrator Bias	345
11.4.4.9	Corruption, Fraud, or Undue Means	345
11.5	Opposing Confirmation of the Award	345
11.5.1	The Confirmation Process	345
11.5.2	Time Period to Vacate Does Not Start Running When Notice of Award Is Defective or Is Not Sent	346
11.5.3	No Deadline to Challenge the Arbitration Agreement’s Existence or Enforceability	347
11.5.4	Creditor’s Failure to Produce Arbitration Agreement or Any Applicable Assignment	349
11.5.5	Corruption, Fraud, or Undue Means Unknown to the Consumer	350
11.5.6	Consumer’s Failure to Participate May Prevent Confirmation	350
11.5.7	Defects in the Confirmation Proceeding	351
11.5.7.1	Creditor’s Petition to Confirm Is Untimely	351
11.5.7.2	Petition to Confirm Filed in the Wrong Court	351
11.5.7.3	Party Seeking to Confirm Award Entered on Behalf of a Different Party	352
11.5.7.4	Seeking an Amount in Excess of the Award	352
11.5.7.5	Other Defects in the Confirmation Proceeding	352
11.5.8	Preclusive Effect of Dismissal of Prior Confirmation Action	353
11.6	Setting Aside a Confirmed Arbitration Award	353

Appendix A	The Federal Arbitration Act	335
------------	---------------------------------------	-----

Appendix B	Federal Limits on Arbitration
B.1	Prohibition of Arbitrations Involving Residential Mortgage Loans	359
B.1.1	Truth in Lending Act	359
B.1.2	Regulation Z	359
B.2	Limits on Arbitration Involving Military Personnel	359
B.3	Consumer Financial Protection Bureau and Securities and Exchange Commission Authority to Restrict Arbitration	360
B.4	Limits on Arbitration of Discrimination and Harassment Claims Brought by Employees of Federal Contractors	361
B.5	Limits on Arbitration Involving Livestock and Poultry Farmers	361
B.6	Limits on Arbitration Involving Whistleblowers	362
B.7	Limits on Arbitration Involving Car Dealers and Their Franchisors	363

Appendix C	Rules of the American Arbitration Association
C.1	Commercial Arbitration Rules and Mediation Procedures (Including Procedures for Large, Complex Commercial Disputes)	365
C.2	Consumer Arbitration Rules	377
C.3	Class Arbitrations	388
C.3.1	Policy on Class Arbitrations	388
C.3.2	Supplementary Rules for Class Arbitrations	388
C.4	Consumer Debt Collection Arbitrations	390
C.5	Consumer Due Process Protocol	390
C.6	Disclosures for California Consumer Cases	405
C.6.1	Consumer-Related Disputes Filing Form—California	405

C.6.2	Ethics Standards for Neutral Arbitrators in Contractual Arbitration in California	406
C.6.3	Business Advisory of Consumer Case Disclosures	407
C.6.4	Consumer Arbitration Statistics	407
C.6.5	Affidavit for Waiver of Fees—California	408
C.6.6	Demand for Arbitration—California Employment-Related Disputes ...	408
	Index	411

