

Contents

Online Version of this Treatise .....	v
---------------------------------------	---

What Your Library Should Contain .....	vi
--	----

Chapter 1

Introduction

1.1 About This Treatise .....	1
1.1.1 Print and Online Versions .....	1
1.1.2 Topics Covered in This Treatise .....	1
1.1.3 Laws Covered in This Treatise .....	2
1.1.4 Organization of This Treatise .....	2
1.1.5 Pleadings, Primary Sources, and Practice Tools .....	2
1.1.6 Unreported Decisions and Clearinghouse Citations .....	3
1.2 Other Resources .....	3
1.2.1 Researching UCC Law .....	3
1.2.2 Researching State Consumer Credit Laws .....	4
1.2.3 Researching Bankruptcy Law .....	4
1.3 Handling Repossession Cases .....	4
1.3.1 Why Repossession Cases Are Important .....	4
1.3.2 Establishing a Repossession Practice .....	5
1.4 Analyzing a Repossession Case .....	5
1.4.1 Introduction .....	5
1.4.2 Advising the Client Facing Repossession .....	5
1.4.3 What Law Applies? .....	5
1.4.4 Does the Creditor Have an Enforceable Security Interest? .....	6
1.4.5 Was the Consumer in Default? .....	6
1.4.6 Was the Self-Help Repossession Conducted Properly? .....	6
1.4.7 Did the Creditor Afford the Consumer the Right to Reinstate or Redeem and Notify the Consumer of the Repossession Sale? .....	6
1.4.8 Did the Creditor Dispose of the Collateral Properly? .....	7
1.4.9 Has the Creditor Correctly Computed and Informed the Consumer of the Deficiency or Surplus? .....	7
1.4.10 Is the Creditor Barred from Recovering a Deficiency Judgment? .....	8
1.4.11 What Remedies Are Available? .....	8
1.4.12 Special Issues in Manufactured Home Repossessions .....	8
1.4.13 Repossession of Leased Property .....	9

Chapter 2

Scope and Sources of Law

2.1 Introduction .....	11
2.2 The Basics of UCC Article 9 .....	11
2.2.1 History of Article 9 and Its Amendments .....	11
2.2.2 Substantive Overview of UCC Article 9 .....	11
2.2.3 Changes Made by 2001 Amendments to Article 9 .....	13
2.2.3.1 Summary of Substantive Changes .....	13
2.2.3.2 Effective Date of Revised Article 9 .....	14
2.2.4 Scope of Article 9 .....	14
2.2.4.1 Overview .....	14
2.2.4.2 Article 9 Applies to Secured Transactions No Matter How Structured .....	14

2.2.4.3	Exclusions from Article 9 . . . . .	15
2.2.4.3.1	True leases and bailments . . . . .	15
2.2.4.3.2	Deposit accounts . . . . .	16
2.2.4.3.3	Tort claims, insurance claims, wage assignments, other exclusions . . . . .	17
2.2.4.4	Consensual Liens Versus Statutory Liens . . . . .	17
2.2.4.5	Personalty Versus Realty . . . . .	17
2.2.4.5.1	General . . . . .	17
2.2.4.5.2	Security interests in obligations secured by real estate . . . . .	18
2.2.4.5.3	When collateral includes both personalty and realty . . . . .	18
2.2.4.6	Security Interests Versus True Leases . . . . .	19
2.2.4.7	Consignments . . . . .	19
2.2.4.8	Article 9's Coverage of Assignments . . . . .	20
2.2.4.8.1	General . . . . .	20
2.2.4.8.2	Article 9's invalidation of restrictions on assignability; annuity contracts and tort settlements . . . . .	20
2.2.5	Key Definitions Under Revised Article 9 . . . . .	22
2.2.5.1	Consumer Transactions and Consumer-Goods Transactions . . . . .	22
2.2.5.2	Debtor, Obligor, and Secondary Obligor . . . . .	23
2.2.5.3	Account, Account Debtor, Chattel Paper, General Intangible, Payment Intangible, and Instrument . . . . .	23
2.3	Overview of Other Laws Affecting Repossessions . . . . .	25
2.3.1	Other UCC Articles . . . . .	25
2.3.1.1	UCC Article 2A . . . . .	25
2.3.1.2	The Good Faith Requirement of Article 1 . . . . .	25
2.3.1.3	Article 3's Treatment of Cosigners . . . . .	26
2.3.2	State Consumer Credit Laws . . . . .	26
2.3.2.1	Types of Statutes . . . . .	26
2.3.2.2	UCC Does Not Preempt State Consumer Credit Laws . . . . .	27
2.3.2.3	Scope of State Consumer Credit Laws . . . . .	27
2.3.3	Other State and Federal Statutes Relevant to Repossession . . . . .	28
2.3.3.1	State Deceptive Practices (UDAP) Statutes . . . . .	28
2.3.3.2	Federal Civil Rights Law . . . . .	29
2.3.3.3	Truth in Lending and Consumer Leasing Acts . . . . .	29
2.3.3.4	Servicemembers Civil Relief Act . . . . .	30
2.3.3.5	Fair Debt Collection Practices Act . . . . .	30
2.3.3.6	State Debt Collection Laws . . . . .	30
2.3.3.7	United States Bankruptcy Code . . . . .	30
2.3.3.8	State Lien Laws . . . . .	31
2.3.3.9	Replevin Laws . . . . .	31
2.3.3.10	State Foreclosure Law . . . . .	31
2.3.3.11	Rent-to-Own Statutes and State Leasing Statutes . . . . .	31
2.3.4	Common Law Doctrines Applicable to Repossessions . . . . .	31
2.3.4.1	Common Law Tort Claims . . . . .	31
2.3.4.2	The Law of Bailments . . . . .	32
2.3.4.2.1	Creation of a bailment . . . . .	32
2.3.4.2.2	Duties of a bailee . . . . .	34
2.3.4.2.3	Repossession by a bailor . . . . .	35
2.3.4.2.4	Remedies in bailment cases . . . . .	35
2.3.4.2.5	Distinguishing a bailment from a security interest . . . . .	35
2.3.4.3	Common Law of the Pledge . . . . .	36
2.4	Choice of Law . . . . .	36
2.4.1	Introduction . . . . .	36
2.4.2	If the Contract Does Not Have a Choice of Law Clause . . . . .	37
2.4.3	If the Contract Contains a Choice of Law Clause . . . . .	38
2.4.4	Choice of Law Under Non-UCC Statutes . . . . .	40

2.5	Preemption by Federal Law . . . . .	40
2.5.1	Overview . . . . .	40
2.5.2	No Preemption of Article 9 . . . . .	40
2.5.3	Other State Repossession Laws . . . . .	41
2.5.3.1	Preemption Under OCC Rules . . . . .	41
2.5.3.2	Application of Former OTS Preemption Regulation to State Repossession Laws . . . . .	41
2.5.4	Preemption of State Laws Restricting the Types of Security Interests That Can Be Taken . . . . .	42

Chapter 3

Enforceable Security Interests

3.1	Valid Security Interest As Precondition to Seizure of Personal Property . . . . .	45
3.2	Elements of a Valid Security Interest . . . . .	45
3.2.1	General . . . . .	45
3.2.1.1	Basic Requirements . . . . .	45
3.2.1.2	Signed Agreement Unnecessary for Possessory Security Interests, Deposit Accounts, and Certain Commercial Collateral . . . . .	45
3.2.1.2.1	Possession of the collateral pursuant to an agreement . . . . .	45
3.2.1.2.2	Control of deposit accounts or certain types of business collateral . . . . .	46
3.2.2	Written Agreement Must Specifically Grant Security Interest . . . . .	46
3.2.2.1	Agreement Must Be a Written or Electronic Document . . . . .	46
3.2.2.2	Agreement Must Specifically Grant the Security Interest . . . . .	47
3.2.2.3	Is Truth in Lending Disclosure an Adequate Grant? . . . . .	50
3.2.3	Debtor Must Sign or Otherwise Authenticate the Agreement . . . . .	50
3.2.3.1	General . . . . .	50
3.2.3.2	What Is a Valid Authentication? . . . . .	51
3.2.4	Unchecked Boxes, Blanks, and Amendments . . . . .	51
3.2.5	Creditor Must Give Value . . . . .	52
3.2.6	Debtor Must Have Rights in Collateral . . . . .	52
3.2.6.1	The General Rule . . . . .	52
3.2.6.2	Practical Implications . . . . .	54
3.2.6.3	What “Rights in the Collateral” Are Sufficient; Exceptions to the General Rule . . . . .	54
3.2.7	Security Agreement Must Identify the Collateral . . . . .	54
3.2.7.1	General Rule . . . . .	54
3.2.7.2	Relationship to Collateral’s Description in the Financing Statement . . . . .	57
3.2.7.3	When Identification of Collateral Is Accidentally Omitted . . . . .	58
3.2.7.4	Relationship to Truth in Lending Disclosure of Security Interest . . . . .	59
3.2.8	Security Interest Must Not Be Otherwise Prohibited . . . . .	60
3.2.9	Perfection of Security Interest Is Not Necessary . . . . .	60
3.3	Limits on Non-Purchase-Money Security Interests . . . . .	61
3.3.1	Introduction . . . . .	61
3.3.2	Abuses . . . . .	61
3.3.3	Article 9’s Definition of Purchase-Money Security Interests; Irrelevance of Article 9 Rules to Most Consumer Issues . . . . .	61
3.3.3.1	General Article 9 Definition . . . . .	61
3.3.3.2	Article 9’s Definition When Debt Includes Non-Purchase-Money Collateral . . . . .	62
3.3.3.3	Effect of Refinancing or Payment on Purchase-Money Security Interest . . . . .	62
3.3.3.4	Who Has Burden of Proving Purchase-Money Nature of Security Interest? . . . . .	62
3.3.4	FTC Rule Prohibits Non-Purchase-Money Security Interests in Household Goods . . . . .	62
3.3.4.1	Introduction . . . . .	62
3.3.4.2	FTC Definition of Household Goods . . . . .	63
3.3.4.2.1	Items that are household goods . . . . .	63
3.3.4.2.2	Limited exceptions for electronic equipment, jewelry, antiques, and art . . . . .	63
3.3.4.2.3	Other items that are not household goods . . . . .	64

3.3.4.3	Consumers and Creditors Covered by the Rule	65
3.3.4.4	Creditor Attempts to Evade the FTC Rule	66
3.3.4.5	Remedies for FTC Rule Violations	66
3.3.5	State Restrictions on Non-Purchase-Money Security Interests	67
3.3.6	Unfairness, Unconscionability, and Related Challenges	70
3.3.7	Does Description Adequately Identify Non-Purchase-Money Collateral?	71
3.3.7.1	Introduction	71
3.3.7.2	Does Collateral Description Distinguish After-Acquired Property?	71
3.3.7.3	Identification of Televisions, Radios, Musical Instruments, and Antiques	72
3.3.7.4	Distinguishing Between Debtor’s Property and That Owned by Other Household Members	72
3.4	Continued Enforceability After Security Interest Created	72
3.4.1	Introduction	72
3.4.2	Secured Party’s Interest in Proceeds of Collateral	73
3.4.3	When Debtor Transfers Collateral to Third Party	74
3.4.3.1	General	74
3.4.3.2	Creditors with Unperfected Security Interests	74
3.4.3.3	Creditors Whose Interests Are Automatically Perfected	75
3.4.3.4	Perfection by Filing Financing Statement or Indicating Lien on Certificate of Title	75
3.4.3.4.1	When perfection gives creditor superior rights	75
3.4.3.4.2	When perfection does not give creditor superior rights	76
3.4.4	Assignment of Security Agreement	76
3.4.5	When Underlying Obligation Is Extinguished; Creditor’s Duty to File Termination Statement	76
3.4.6	After-Acquired Property	77
3.5	Refinancings and Consolidations	77
3.5.1	Introduction	77
3.5.2	Article 9 Requirements to Preserve Prior Collateral in a Refinancing	78
3.5.2.1	Renewals Versus Novations	78
3.5.2.2	Security Interest Must Be Created Anew in a Novation	78
3.5.3	How Restrictions on Non-Purchase-Money Security Interests Apply to Refinancings	79
3.5.3.1	Introduction; Irrelevance of Article 9 Rule	79
3.5.3.2	Continuation of Security Interest in Goods Purchased Does Not Violate FTC Credit Practices Rule	79
3.5.3.3	State Law Restrictions on Non-Purchase-Money Security Interests May Preclude Security Interests After Refinancing	80
3.6	Future Advance and Antecedent Debt Clauses	80
3.6.1	General	80
3.6.2	Enforceability of Future Advance Clauses	80
3.6.2.1	UCC Authorization	80
3.6.2.2	Ambiguous Future Advance Clauses Will Not Be Enforced	80
3.6.2.3	Must the Advance Be of the Same “Class” As the Original Loan	81
3.6.2.4	Application to Future Advances Not Within the Parties’ Contemplation	82
3.6.2.5	Does a Novation of the Original Debt Extinguish the Future Advance Clause?	83
3.6.3	Judicial Reluctance to Enforce Antecedent Debt Clauses	83
3.6.4	FTC Rule Restricts Future Advance and Antecedent Debt Clauses That Result in Non-Purchase-Money Security Interests in Household Goods	84
3.6.5	Truth in Lending Act Implications	84
3.7	Cross-Collateral, Pro Rata Application of Payments, and Consolidations	85
3.7.1	Introduction	85
3.7.2	Cross-Collateral Clauses	85
3.7.3	Consolidation of Several Credit Sales	86
3.7.4	Pro Rata Allocation of Payments for Multiple Purchases	87
3.8	Automobiles and Manufactured Homes As Collateral	87
3.8.1	Introduction	87

3.8.2	Creation of Security Interests in Motor Vehicles and Manufactured Homes . . . . .	88
3.8.2.1	Article 9 Rules; Common Errors . . . . .	88
3.8.2.2	Retention of Certificate of Title by Seller . . . . .	89
3.8.2.2.1	Introduction . . . . .	89
3.8.2.2.2	Nature of transaction in strict title states . . . . .	89
3.8.2.2.3	Nature of transaction in other states . . . . .	90
3.8.3	Property Added to the Vehicle or Home Pre-Dating the Security Agreement . . . . .	91
3.8.4	Property Added to a Vehicle or Home After the Security Agreement Is Signed (Accessions) . . . . .	91
3.8.5	Insurance Proceeds and Trade-Ins . . . . .	93
3.8.6	Force-Placed Automobile Insurance As a Future Advance . . . . .	93
3.8.7	Automobile Title Loans . . . . .	93
3.8.7.1	Nature of Automobile Title Loans . . . . .	93
3.8.7.2	Applicable Law . . . . .	94
3.8.7.3	Has the Lender Created an Enforceable Article 9 Security Interest? . . . . .	95
3.8.7.4	Pre-Repossession Notices and Redemption Rights . . . . .	96
3.8.7.5	Can Automobile Title Lender Keep the Collateral in Satisfaction of the Debt? . . . . .	97
3.8.7.6	Notice and Manner of Conducting Repossession Sale . . . . .	97
3.8.7.7	Surpluses and Deficiencies . . . . .	97
3.8.7.8	Automobile Title Loans in Bankruptcy . . . . .	98
3.9	Merchant Card Issuer's Interest in Goods Purchased with Card . . . . .	99
3.9.1	Introduction . . . . .	99
3.9.2	Is There a Valid Security Agreement? . . . . .	99
3.9.2.1	UCC Requirements . . . . .	99
3.9.2.2	Can the Store Produce the Necessary Records? . . . . .	100
3.9.3	Is the Collateral Adequately Described? . . . . .	100
3.9.4	Determining Which Collateral Is Paid Off First . . . . .	101
3.9.5	State Laws Prohibiting Credit Card Security Interests . . . . .	101
3.9.6	False Threats to Enforce Credit Card Security Interests . . . . .	102
3.10	Consumer Remedies When Security Interest Is Invalid . . . . .	102
3.10.1	When Credit Property Insurance Based on Invalid Collateral . . . . .	102
3.10.2	When Unnecessary Filing Fees or Non-Filing Insurance Charged . . . . .	102
3.10.3	When Description of Collateral Is Overly Inclusive . . . . .	102
3.10.4	When Threats to Enforce an Invalid Security Interest Are Made . . . . .	103
3.10.5	When Creditor Enforces Invalid Security Interests . . . . .	103

Chapter 4

4.1	Default and Acceleration . . . . .	105
4.1.1	Default As Precondition to Repossession . . . . .	105
4.1.2	Under the UCC the Definition of Default Is Determined by Agreement . . . . .	105
4.1.3	Relationship of Default and Acceleration . . . . .	106
4.1.4	Agreement to Accelerate Required; Strict Construction of Grounds to Accelerate . . . . .	106
4.1.5	Validity Under the UCC of Contractual Grounds for Acceleration . . . . .	107
4.1.6	Right to Notice of Acceleration Prior to Repossession . . . . .	107
4.1.7	Contract Provisions Waiving Debtor's Right to Notice of Acceleration . . . . .	108
4.1.7.1	Waiver of Notice Usually Found Valid . . . . .	108
4.1.7.2	Waiver Provisions Strictly Construed . . . . .	109
4.1.7.3	When Notice Required Despite Waiver . . . . .	109
4.1.7.4	Waiver Provisions May Be Unconscionable or Violate State Deceptive Practices Statutes . . . . .	109
4.2	Limits on Default and Acceleration . . . . .	110
4.2.1	Limits on Nonpayment As Grounds for Default . . . . .	110
4.2.2	Limits on Acceleration at Will or When Creditor Insecure . . . . .	111
4.2.2.1	Introduction . . . . .	111
4.2.2.2	The UCC Limitation . . . . .	111
4.2.2.3	Other State Law Limitations on Acceleration Based Upon Insecurity . . . . .	112

4.2.3	Arbitrary, Unreasonable, Bad Faith, or Unconscionable Acceleration . . . . .	113
4.2.4	Retaliatory or Discriminatory Acceleration . . . . .	114
4.2.5	Limits on Bankruptcy As Basis for Default and Acceleration . . . . .	114
4.2.6	Limits When the Consumer Is a Servicemember . . . . .	114
4.2.7	Other State Limits on Default . . . . .	115
4.3	Creditor’s Waiver of Right to Declare Default . . . . .	115
4.3.1	Habitual Acceptance of Late Payments Prevents Sudden Acceleration . . . . .	115
4.3.1.1	General . . . . .	115
4.3.1.2	Waiver . . . . .	117
4.3.1.3	Estoppel . . . . .	118
4.3.2	Creditor’s Acceptance of Other Forms of Default Waives Right to Accelerate . . . . .	119
4.3.3	Waiver of Right to Accelerate Based Upon Creditor’s Oral Representations . . . . .	119
4.3.4	Effect of Contractual Anti-Waiver Provisions . . . . .	119
4.4	Relationship of Default to Consumer’s Defenses or Counterclaims . . . . .	120
4.4.1	If Consumer’s Obligation Is Extinguished . . . . .	120
4.4.2	Revocation of Acceptance Cancels the Obligation and Provides Rights in the Collateral. . . . .	121
4.4.2.1	Revocation Cancels the Obligation. . . . .	121
4.4.2.2	Consumer’s Right to Retain the Collateral . . . . .	121
4.4.2.2.1	General . . . . .	121
4.4.2.2.2	When the secured party is not related to the seller . . . . .	122
4.4.2.3	Revocation of Acceptance After Repossession. . . . .	122
4.4.3	No Default When Payments Properly Withheld . . . . .	123
4.4.3.1	UCC § 2-717 Right to Deduct Payments . . . . .	123
4.4.3.2	Consumer Must Notify the Seller . . . . .	123
4.4.3.3	Against Which Payments May Damage Claims Be Deducted? . . . . .	124
4.4.3.4	Damages That May Be Deducted . . . . .	124
4.4.3.5	Deducting Payments Owed to the Seller’s Assignee or a Related Lender . . . . .	124
4.4.3.6	Potential Adverse Consequences of Stopping Payments . . . . .	125
4.4.4	If Debtor’s Payment Is Conditioned on Creditor’s Performance . . . . .	125
4.4.5	Effect of Debtor’s Counterclaims . . . . .	125
4.5	The Right to Cure a Default . . . . .	126
4.5.1	Introduction . . . . .	126
4.5.2	State Statutory Rights to Cure . . . . .	126
4.5.2.1	General . . . . .	126
4.5.2.2	The Notice Requirement . . . . .	127
4.5.2.3	Electronic Notice of the Right to Cure . . . . .	127
4.5.2.3.1	E-Sign and UETA control . . . . .	127
4.5.2.3.2	E-Sign electronic notice requirements . . . . .	128
4.5.2.3.3	UETA electronic notice requirements . . . . .	129
4.5.2.4	Implications of Creditor Noncompliance with Right to Cure . . . . .	129
4.5.3	Federal Right to Cure for Manufactured Home First Mortgage Loans . . . . .	129
4.5.3.1	Adoption and General Operation of the Rule . . . . .	129
4.5.3.2	To What Creditors Does the Rule Apply? . . . . .	130
4.5.3.3	Operation of the Statutory Right to Cure . . . . .	130
4.5.3.4	When the Credit Agreement Obscures the Right to Cure . . . . .	131
4.5.4	Creditor’s Voluntary Grant of Right to Cure . . . . .	131
4.6	A Special Case: Yo-Yo (Spot Delivery) Sales . . . . .	132
4.6.1	Introduction . . . . .	132
4.6.2	Do Article 9 Rules Regulate Yo-Yo Transactions? . . . . .	132
4.6.2.1	Introduction . . . . .	132
4.6.2.2	Article 9 Applies When No Written Contingency Clause Included . . . . .	132
4.6.2.3	Article 9 Applies When Contingency Clause Is Not Binding . . . . .	133
4.6.2.4	Has the Contingency Occurred? . . . . .	134
4.6.2.5	Article 9 Applies to Condition Subsequent Agreements . . . . .	135
4.6.2.6	Nominal Condition Precedent Sales Often Contain Characteristics of a Condition Subsequent Sale . . . . .	135
4.6.2.7	Inconsistent Characteristics Indicate a Condition Subsequent Sale . . . . .	137

4.6.3	Yo-Yo Transaction’s Repossession Implications When Dealer Retains Only a Security Interest . . . . .	137
4.6.3.1	General . . . . .	137
4.6.3.2	Default, Acceleration, and Repossession . . . . .	137
4.6.3.3	Falsification of Credit Application As Cause for Default . . . . .	138
4.6.3.4	Right to Cure or Reinstate; No Breach of the Peace . . . . .	139
4.6.3.5	Article 9 Notice and Disposition . . . . .	139
4.6.4	Implications When Article 9 Does Not Apply . . . . .	139

Chapter 5

Replevin

5.1	Scope of This Chapter . . . . .	141
5.2	Overview of Replevin . . . . .	141
5.2.1	The Nature of the Replevin Action . . . . .	141
5.2.2	Creditors Must Strictly Comply with Replevin Procedures . . . . .	143
5.2.3	Elements of the Replevin Action . . . . .	143
5.2.4	Overview of Replevin Procedures . . . . .	146
5.2.5	Relief Available in Replevin Action . . . . .	147
5.2.6	Relationship Between Replevin and Conversion . . . . .	148
5.2.7	Relationship Between Replevin and Article 9 . . . . .	149
5.2.8	Debtor Strategies . . . . .	149
5.2.9	Debtor Resistance to Sheriff’s Seizure of Collateral . . . . .	150
5.3	Application of Replevin Statutes to Manufactured Home Seizures . . . . .	151
5.3.1	Introduction . . . . .	151
5.3.2	Implications of Treatment of Manufactured Homes As Realty or Personalty . . . . .	152
5.3.3	Manufactured Home Title-Purging Statutes . . . . .	153
5.3.4	State Statutes Specifying How Manufactured Homes Are Treated in Credit Transactions . . . . .	155
5.3.5	Other State Statutes . . . . .	156
5.3.6	Whether Manufactured Home Is Treated As Realty in Absence of State Statute . . . . .	157
5.3.7	The Manufactured Home Owner’s Ground Lease and the Secured Party . . . . .	159
5.4	Prejudgment Seizure of the Property Through a Writ of Replevin . . . . .	159
5.4.1	Constitutional Standards Controlling Writ of Replevin . . . . .	159
5.4.1.1	General . . . . .	159
5.4.1.2	Due Process Challenges to the Ex Parte Issuance of Writs of Replevin . . . . .	160
5.4.1.3	Unreasonable Search and Seizure . . . . .	161
5.4.1.4	State Constitutional Provisions . . . . .	162
5.4.2	Procedural Requirements for Ex Parte Writs of Replevin . . . . .	162
5.4.2.1	Introduction . . . . .	162
5.4.2.2	Does State Authorize Ex Parte Writs? . . . . .	162
5.4.2.3	Challenging the Constitutionality of Writ of Replevin Procedures . . . . .	163
5.4.2.4	Stated Grounds for Seeking Writ Ex Parte . . . . .	163
5.4.2.5	The Affidavit and Complaint . . . . .	164
5.4.2.6	Judicial Supervision of the Writ . . . . .	166
5.4.2.7	The Post-Seizure Hearing . . . . .	166
5.4.2.8	Debtor’s Consent to the Seizure . . . . .	166
5.4.2.9	Debtor Remedies . . . . .	167
5.4.2.9.1	Remedies based on unconstitutional process . . . . .	167
5.4.2.9.2	Remedies based on violation of state law . . . . .	167
5.4.3	Challenging Writ of Replevin at Hearing Prior to or Immediately After Seizure . . . . .	168
5.4.3.1	Introduction . . . . .	168
5.4.3.2	Right to a Hearing . . . . .	168
5.4.3.3	The Court’s Jurisdiction to Issue Writ . . . . .	168
5.4.3.4	Has a Complaint Been Filed? . . . . .	169
5.4.3.5	The Creditor’s Burden of Proof . . . . .	169
5.4.3.6	Debtor’s Substantive Defenses and Counterclaims . . . . .	170
5.4.3.7	Attorney Fees . . . . .	171

5.4.4	Creditor’s Bond and Debtor’s Counter-Bond . . . . .	171
5.4.4.1	Challenging the Creditor’s Bond . . . . .	171
5.4.4.2	Posting a Counter-Bond . . . . .	173
5.4.4.2.1	General . . . . .	173
5.4.4.2.2	Waiver or reduction of the counter-bond amount . . . . .	173
5.5	The Trial on the Merits. . . . .	173
5.5.1	Avoiding the Trial by Reinstating the Contract . . . . .	173
5.5.2	Consumer’s Substantive Defenses and Counterclaims . . . . .	174
5.5.2.1	Raising Defenses. . . . .	174
5.5.2.2	Can the Defendant Raise Counterclaims?. . . . .	174
5.5.2.3	Remedies for Wrongful Replevin . . . . .	176
5.5.3	Creditor’s Failure to Pursue Replevin Action . . . . .	177

Chapter 6

Self-Help Repossession

6.1	Introduction . . . . .	179
6.2	Representing the Client Before Repossession . . . . .	179
6.2.1	Voluntary Surrender . . . . .	179
6.2.2	Other Pre-Repossession Options . . . . .	181
6.2.3	False Threats to Repossess . . . . .	181
6.2.4	Resisting Repossession Attempts . . . . .	181
6.2.4.1	When Clients Should Object . . . . .	181
6.2.4.2	Evaluating the Risk That Creditor Will Criminally Prosecute Debtor for Hindering Enforcement of Security Interest . . . . .	182
6.2.4.3	Possible Civil Liability for Hindering Repossession . . . . .	185
6.3	Bars to Repossession . . . . .	186
6.3.1	General . . . . .	186
6.3.2	Statutes Prohibiting Repossession. . . . .	186
6.3.3	Limits on Self-Help Seizure of Manufactured Homes . . . . .	187
6.3.4	Limits on Seizure of Other Specific Types of Goods . . . . .	188
6.3.5	Specially Protected Debtors . . . . .	188
6.3.5.1	Military Personnel and Their Dependents . . . . .	188
6.3.5.1.1	Overview . . . . .	188
6.3.5.1.2	Which servicemembers are protected . . . . .	189
6.3.5.1.3	Prohibition against self-help repossession . . . . .	189
6.3.5.1.4	Protections when creditor seeks judicial order to repossess . . . . .	190
6.3.5.1.5	Interplay with interest rate restrictions . . . . .	190
6.3.5.1.6	Remedies . . . . .	190
6.3.5.1.7	Non-SCRA restrictions on repossession from military bases . . . . .	191
6.3.5.1.8	State statutes protecting servicemembers from repossession . . . . .	191
6.3.5.2	Native Americans . . . . .	192
6.3.6	Due Process and Fourth Amendment Considerations. . . . .	194
6.3.6.1	No State Action in Typical Self-Help Repossession . . . . .	194
6.3.6.2	When Government Is Creditor . . . . .	194
6.3.6.3	When Government Official Assists in Self-Help Repossession . . . . .	195
6.3.6.4	Fourth Amendment Issues. . . . .	199
6.3.6.5	Private Remedies for Constitutional Violations . . . . .	201
6.3.6.6	State Constitutional Provisions. . . . .	201
6.4	Self-Help Repossession Must Not Breach the Peace. . . . .	202
6.4.1	Introduction . . . . .	202
6.4.2	Physical Force . . . . .	203
6.4.3	Threats; Inciting Violence or Creating a Risk of Injury . . . . .	204
6.4.4	Repossession Despite Consumer’s Objection Breaches the Peace . . . . .	204
6.4.5	Breaches That Occur After Repossessor Has Gained Possession . . . . .	206
6.4.6	Trespass. . . . .	206
6.4.6.1	General . . . . .	206
6.4.6.2	Public Street, Private Driveway, or Garage . . . . .	207

6.4.6.3	Residence . . . . .	208
6.4.6.4	Place of Business or Employment . . . . .	209
6.4.7	Use of a Police Officer; Impersonation . . . . .	209
6.4.8	Deception, Trickery, or Stealth . . . . .	210
6.4.9	Waiver . . . . .	210
6.4.10	Who Is Liable for Breach of the Peace . . . . .	210
6.5	Other Self-Help Repossession Restrictions . . . . .	211
6.5.1	Method of Seizure . . . . .	211
6.5.2	Notice of Repossession . . . . .	211
6.5.3	Creditor’s Agreement Not to Repossess . . . . .	212
6.5.4	State Licensing Requirements . . . . .	212
6.5.5	Criminal Statutes Applicable to Wrongful Repossession . . . . .	212
6.6	Electronic Repossessions . . . . .	213
6.6.1	Nature of Electronic Car Repossession . . . . .	213
6.6.2	Electronic Disablement and Repossession Law . . . . .	213
6.6.2.1	Article 9 Does Not Authorize Disabling Vehicles . . . . .	213
6.6.2.2	If Allowed, Any Disablement Must Comply with Article 9 . . . . .	214
6.6.2.3	Limits on Self-Help Repossession Should Apply to Disablements . . . . .	215
6.6.2.3.1	Breach of the peace in electronic repossessions . . . . .	215
6.6.2.3.2	Federal, state, and tribal laws limiting self-help . . . . .	215
6.6.2.3.3	The bankruptcy stay . . . . .	215
6.6.2.4	Electronic Disablement Allowed Only When Creditor Can Repossess . . . . .	216
6.6.2.4.1	Default requirement; expiration of cure or grace periods . . . . .	216
6.6.2.4.2	Consumer remedies . . . . .	216
6.6.2.5	Consumer’s Removal of the Disabling Device . . . . .	217
6.6.2.6	Creditor’s Duties After Electronic Repossession . . . . .	217
6.6.3	State Regulation of Electronic Disablement Devices . . . . .	217
6.6.4	Other Challenges to Electronic Devices Installed in Vehicles . . . . .	218
6.6.4.1	Devices That Annoy May Violate Debt Collection Statutes . . . . .	218
6.6.4.2	Deception and Non-Disclosure . . . . .	218
6.6.4.3	Electronic Repossession As an Unfair Practice . . . . .	218
6.6.4.4	Truth in Lending Act . . . . .	219
6.6.4.5	Equal Credit Opportunity Act . . . . .	219
6.6.4.6	State Credit Statutes . . . . .	219
6.6.4.7	Credit Repair Laws . . . . .	219
6.6.4.8	Privacy Concerns . . . . .	219
6.6.5	Electronic Self-Help for Computer Software . . . . .	220

Chapter 7

7.1	Description of the Problem . . . . .	221
7.2	Application of Bailment Law to Unsecured Personal Property . . . . .	221
7.3	Steps to Take Prior to Bringing Legal Action . . . . .	221
7.3.1	Demanding Return of the Property . . . . .	221
7.3.2	Documenting What Property Was Seized or Damaged and by Whom . . . . .	222
7.3.3	Creditor Conditions As to Return of Unsecured Property . . . . .	222
7.4	Legal Claims Against Creditor for Seizing Unsecured Property . . . . .	223
7.4.1	Common Law Tort Claims . . . . .	223
7.4.1.1	Conversion Action If Unsecured Personalty Is Not Returned . . . . .	223
7.4.1.2	Negligence Action If Personal Property Is Not Returned . . . . .	224
7.4.1.3	Trespass Action Even If Unsecured Personalty Is Returned . . . . .	225
7.4.1.4	Negligence Action If Unsecured Property Is Damaged . . . . .	225
7.4.1.5	Compensatory Damages . . . . .	225
7.4.1.6	Creditor Liability for Acts of Repossessor . . . . .	226
7.4.1.7	Punitive Damages Recoverable . . . . .	226
7.4.2	UCC Remedies . . . . .	226

7.4.3	FDCPA, Other Statutory Sources of Damages . . . . .	226
7.4.4	Evidence and Proof Issues . . . . .	227
7.5	Contractual Limitations on Creditor’s Liability for Seizure of Unsecured Property . . . . .	227
7.5.1	Limitations on Creditor Liability for Property Eventually Returned . . . . .	227
7.5.2	Waiver of Creditor’s Liability for Seizure of Unsecured Property Never Returned . . . . .	228
7.5.3	Conflict with State Law . . . . .	229
7.6	State Statutory Requirements When Unsecured Personal Property Is Repossessed . . . . .	230

Chapter 8

Using Bankruptcy to Prevent Repossessions

8.1	Introduction . . . . .	231
8.1.1	Relevance of Bankruptcy to Repossessions . . . . .	231
8.1.2	Summary of This Chapter . . . . .	231
8.2	The Automatic Stay . . . . .	232
8.2.1	Purpose of the Automatic Stay . . . . .	232
8.2.2	Stays Obtained by Filing for Bankruptcy . . . . .	232
8.2.2.1	The Automatic Stay . . . . .	232
8.2.2.2	The Codebtor Stay . . . . .	232
8.2.3	Duration of the Automatic Stay . . . . .	232
8.2.3.1	General Rule . . . . .	232
8.2.3.2	Limitations Based on Repeat Filings . . . . .	233
8.2.4	Scope of the Automatic Stay . . . . .	234
8.2.4.1	Stay of Legal Proceedings . . . . .	234
8.2.4.2	Stay of Acts Directed at Debtor’s Property (Including Repossession) . . . . .	234
8.2.4.3	Other Acts Prohibited by the Stay . . . . .	235
8.2.4.4	Exceptions to the Automatic Stay . . . . .	235
8.2.5	Notice of the Automatic Stay . . . . .	235
8.2.6	Enforcing the Stay . . . . .	236
8.2.6.1	Remedies for Violations of the Stay . . . . .	236
8.2.6.2	Violations of the Stay by Government Entities . . . . .	237
8.2.6.3	Procedure . . . . .	237
8.2.7	Proceedings Seeking Relief from Stay . . . . .	237
8.2.7.1	Overview . . . . .	237
8.2.7.2	Form of Proceeding . . . . .	238
8.2.7.3	Time Limits for Court Actions . . . . .	238
8.2.7.4	Grounds for Relief from Stay . . . . .	238
8.2.7.5	Debtor and Trustee Must Be Named As Indispensable Parties . . . . .	240
8.2.7.6	Debtor Must Conduct Speedy Discovery . . . . .	240
8.2.7.7	Raising Defenses in Response to a Motion for Relief from Stay . . . . .	241
8.2.7.8	Burden of Proof . . . . .	241
8.2.7.9	Valuing Collateral to Determine Creditor’s Protection and Debtor’s Equity . . . . .	242
8.2.7.10	Stays Pending Appeal . . . . .	242
8.3	Turnover of Property . . . . .	242
8.3.1	General Rule . . . . .	242
8.3.2	Scope . . . . .	242
8.3.3	Procedure . . . . .	243
8.3.4	Issues of Possession After Turnover . . . . .	243
8.4	Debtor’s Powers of Avoidance . . . . .	244
8.4.1	Overview . . . . .	244
8.4.2	Exempt Property . . . . .	244
8.4.3	General Transfer and Lien Avoidance Principles . . . . .	245
8.4.4	Power to Avoid Non-Possessory, Non-Purchase-Money Security Interests . . . . .	245
8.4.5	Power to Avoid Judicial Liens . . . . .	246
8.4.6	Debtor’s Right to Use Trustee’s Avoiding Powers . . . . .	247

	8.4.6.1	Only Involuntary Transfers Covered . . . . .	247
	8.4.6.2	Strong-Arm Clause . . . . .	247
	8.4.6.3	Preferences . . . . .	247
	8.4.6.4	Fraudulent Conveyances . . . . .	248
	8.4.6.5	Limitations on Debtor’s Use of Trustee’s Avoiding Powers . . . . .	249
	8.4.7	Procedure for Use of Avoiding Powers . . . . .	249
8.5		Debtor’s Right to Redeem Secured Property in Chapter 7 Cases . . . . .	249
	8.5.1	Purpose . . . . .	249
	8.5.2	Limitations . . . . .	250
	8.5.3	Payment of Redemption Amount . . . . .	250
	8.5.4	Redemption in Practice . . . . .	250
8.6		Chapter 13 Provisions Affecting Secured Claims . . . . .	251
	8.6.1	Allowed Secured Claims . . . . .	251
	8.6.2	Modification of Secured Creditor’s Rights . . . . .	252
	8.6.2.1	In General . . . . .	252
	8.6.2.2	Requirement of Adequate Protection . . . . .	252
	8.6.2.3	Allowed Secured Claims Provided for by the Plan . . . . .	252
	8.6.2.4	Determining the Amount of an Allowed Secured Claim . . . . .	254
		8.6.2.4.1 Procedure . . . . .	254
		8.6.2.4.2 Valuing motor vehicles . . . . .	255
		8.6.2.4.3 Valuing property other than automobiles . . . . .	255
		8.6.2.4.4 Computation of value . . . . .	255
	8.6.3	Right to Cure Defaults on Long-Term Debts . . . . .	256
8.7		Stripping Down or Stripping Off Liens . . . . .	258
	8.7.1	In General . . . . .	258
	8.7.2	Restrictions in Chapter 7 . . . . .	258
	8.7.3	Limitations in Chapter 13 . . . . .	258
	8.7.3.1	In General . . . . .	258
	8.7.3.2	Is Negative Equity Owed on Trade-In Vehicle Part of Purchase-Money Obligation for New Vehicle? . . . . .	259
		8.7.3.2.1 Introduction . . . . .	259
		8.7.3.2.2 The definition of purchase-money security interest . . . . .	259
		8.7.3.2.3 Courts holding negative equity is part of purchase-money obligation . . . . .	260
		8.7.3.2.4 Courts holding negative equity is not part of purchase-money obligation . . . . .	261
		8.7.3.2.5 Consequences if negative equity is not part of purchase-money obligation: the transformation rule versus the dual status rule . . . . .	262
8.8		Reaffirmation and Security Interests That Survive Bankruptcy . . . . .	263
	8.8.1	The Reaffirmation Process . . . . .	263
	8.8.2	Reaffirmation and Store Credit Cards . . . . .	265
		8.8.2.1 Secured or Unsecured Debt? . . . . .	265
		8.8.2.2 Responding to Lender Abuses . . . . .	266
		8.8.2.3 Ignoring the Claimed Security Interest . . . . .	267
8.9		Debtor’s Statement of Intention Regarding Secured Property . . . . .	268
	8.9.1	Requirements of Section 521(a)(2) . . . . .	268
	8.9.2	Relief from the Stay Based on Noncompliance with Statement of Intention . . . . .	269
		8.9.2.1 Introduction . . . . .	269
		8.9.2.2 Stay Relief Under Section 362(h) . . . . .	269
		8.9.2.3 Stay Relief Under Section 521(a)(6) . . . . .	269
8.10		Rent-to-Own Transactions in Bankruptcy . . . . .	270
8.11		When the Repo Man Files Bankruptcy . . . . .	271

Chapter 9	Disposition of Repossessed Collateral Other Than by Creditor’s Sale: Reinstatement, Redemption, Strict Foreclosure, Sheriff’s Sale, and Consumer’s Sale
	9.1 Introduction . . . . .	273
	9.2 Right to Reinstate Contract . . . . .	273
	9.2.1 Comparison of Right to Reinstate with Right to Redeem and Right to Cure . . . . .	273
	9.2.2 Notice of Right to Reinstate . . . . .	275
	9.2.3 Limits on Right to Reinstate . . . . .	275
	9.2.4 Remedies for Violation of Right to Reinstate . . . . .	276
	9.3 Redemption of Collateral . . . . .	276
	9.3.1 Nature, Advantages, and Disadvantages of Redemption . . . . .	276
	9.3.2 Absolute Right Until Disposition . . . . .	277
	9.3.3 Debtor’s Continued Ownership of the Collateral During the Redemption Period . . . . .	278
	9.3.4 Who Can Redeem? . . . . .	279
	9.3.5 Notice of Right to Redeem . . . . .	279
	9.3.6 Determination of Redemption Amount . . . . .	281
	9.3.6.1 Components of the Redemption Amount . . . . .	281
	9.3.6.2 Requiring the Creditor to Disclose the Redemption Amount . . . . .	281
	9.3.6.3 Acceleration and the Redemption Amount . . . . .	282
	9.3.6.4 Multiple Debts; Multiple Items of Collateral . . . . .	283
	9.3.7 Tender . . . . .	283
	9.3.8 Remedies for Secured Party’s Violation of Redemption Rights . . . . .	283
	9.3.9 Waiver . . . . .	284
	9.4 Strict Foreclosure: Creditor’s Retention of Collateral . . . . .	284
	9.4.1 Deficiency Precluded. . . . .	284
	9.4.2 The 60% Rule: When Is Strict Foreclosure Allowed? . . . . .	284
	9.4.3 Procedural Steps to Effect Strict Foreclosure . . . . .	285
	9.4.3.1 Overview . . . . .	285
	9.4.3.2 The Debtor’s Consent . . . . .	285
	9.4.3.2.1 Overview; who must consent . . . . .	285
	9.4.3.2.2 Consenting by authenticating an agreement . . . . .	285
	9.4.3.2.3 Consenting by failing to object to a proposal . . . . .	286
	9.4.3.2.4 Timing requirements and possession of the collateral . . . . .	286
	9.4.3.2.5 Should the debtor object? . . . . .	287
	9.4.3.2.6 Consequences of debtor’s objection . . . . .	287
	9.4.3.3 Notification of Other Parties . . . . .	287
	9.4.4 Consequences of Failure to Comply with Strict Foreclosure Requirements. . . . .	287
	9.4.5 Partial Strict Foreclosure. . . . .	288
	9.4.6 Good Faith and Deception in Strict Foreclosure. . . . .	289
	9.5 Judicial Sale of Collateral . . . . .	289
	9.6 Sale of Collateral by Debtor. . . . .	290
	9.6.1 Introduction . . . . .	290
	9.6.2 Creditor’s Involvement in Debtor’s Sale May Subject the Sale to Article 9 Requirements . . . . .	290
	9.6.3 Effect on Deficiency When Creditor Rejects Offers Obtained by Debtor . . . . .	291
	9.6.4 Selling on Consignment . . . . .	292
Chapter 10	Creditor’s Sale of the Collateral
	10.1 Creditor Must Sell, Lease, or Otherwise Dispose of Collateral . . . . .	293
	10.1.1 Introduction . . . . .	293
	10.1.2 Leases of Repossessed Collateral . . . . .	293
	10.1.3 Disposition of Collateral Other Than by Sale or Lease. . . . .	293
	10.2 Commercial Reasonableness Standard for Repossession Sales. . . . .	293
	10.2.1 Every Aspect of the Sale Must Be Commercially Reasonable . . . . .	293
	10.2.2 Definition of Commercial Reasonableness . . . . .	294
	10.2.3 Factors in Determining Commercial Reasonableness. . . . .	295

10.2.4	Duty of Commercial Reasonableness Is Not Waivable . . . . .	296
10.2.5	Burden of Proof . . . . .	297
10.2.5.1	Article 9’s Burden of Proof Rules . . . . .	297
10.2.5.2	Burden of Proof When Creditor Seeks Deficiency . . . . .	297
10.2.5.3	Burden of Proof in Debtor’s Affirmative Suit . . . . .	297
10.2.6	Question of Law or Fact . . . . .	297
10.3	Creditor’s Duties Toward Collateral . . . . .	298
10.3.1	Duty to Safeguard . . . . .	298
10.3.2	Use of Collateral . . . . .	299
10.3.3	Duty to Recondition . . . . .	300
10.3.4	Preservation of Warranties . . . . .	301
10.4	Notice of Sale . . . . .	301
10.4.1	Importance of Notice . . . . .	301
10.4.2	Who Must Send Notice . . . . .	302
10.4.3	Written Requirement . . . . .	302
10.4.4	Manner of Sending Notice . . . . .	303
10.4.4.1	UCC Definition of “Send” . . . . .	303
10.4.4.2	Electronic Notice . . . . .	303
10.4.5	Few Exceptions to Notification Requirement . . . . .	304
10.4.5.1	Notice Required Regardless of How and When Creditor Acquires Possession . . . . .	304
10.4.5.2	Notice Required Despite Debtor’s Actual Knowledge or Inability to Buy . . . . .	304
10.4.5.3	Narrow Exception When Collateral Is Perishable, Declining in Value, or Sold on “Recognized Market” . . . . .	305
10.4.6	Who Must Receive Notice . . . . .	306
10.4.6.1	Revised Article 9 Requires Notice to Debtors and Secondary Obligors . . . . .	306
10.4.6.2	Multiple Notices When There Are Multiple Parties; Notice to Party’s Attorney . . . . .	307
10.4.6.3	Effect of Agreement Transferring the Collateral to a New Buyer . . . . .	307
10.4.7	Waiver of Notice . . . . .	307
10.4.7.1	Debtor’s Waiver of Notice . . . . .	307
10.4.7.2	Guarantor’s Waiver of Notice . . . . .	308
10.4.8	Timing of Notice . . . . .	309
10.4.8.1	UCC Requirements . . . . .	309
10.4.8.2	Requirements Under Other State Statutes . . . . .	310
10.4.9	Notice Sent But Not Received; Burden of Proving Notice Was Sent . . . . .	311
10.4.10	Each Co-Debtor and Secondary Obligor Must Receive a Separate Notice . . . . .	313
10.4.11	Content of Notice . . . . .	313
10.4.11.1	Overview . . . . .	313
10.4.11.2	Description of the Debtor and the Secured Party . . . . .	314
10.4.11.3	Description of the Collateral . . . . .	314
10.4.11.4	Method of Intended Disposition . . . . .	314
10.4.11.5	Entitlement to Accounting . . . . .	316
10.4.11.6	Time and Place of Public Sale or Time After Which Private Sale Will Be Held . . . . .	316
10.4.11.7	Description of Recipient’s Liability for Deficiency . . . . .	318
10.4.11.8	Telephone Number to Learn Redemption Amount . . . . .	318
10.4.11.9	Telephone Number or Address for Additional Information . . . . .	319
10.4.11.10	Model Form . . . . .	319
10.4.11.11	Standard of Accuracy . . . . .	319
10.4.11.12	Inclusion of Additional Information in the Notice . . . . .	320
10.4.11.12.1	Whether the creditor has an obligation to include additional information . . . . .	320
10.4.11.12.2	Inclusion of additional non-required information that is misleading . . . . .	321
10.4.12	Remedies for Notice Violations . . . . .	321

10.5	Timing of Sale . . . . .	322
10.5.1	Unreasonable Delay . . . . .	322
10.5.2	Constructive Strict Foreclosure and Other Remedies for Excessive Delay . . . . .	324
10.5.3	Rushed Sale; Choice of Unreasonable Date . . . . .	324
10.6	Determining If a Sale Is Public or Private . . . . .	324
10.6.1	Implications of the Distinction Between Public and Private Sales . . . . .	324
10.6.2	Definitions . . . . .	325
10.6.3	Are Dealer Only Auctions Public or Private Sales? . . . . .	326
10.7	Reasonableness of Choice of Type of Repossession Sale . . . . .	327
10.7.1	Creditor’s Choice of Manner of Sale Must Be Commercially Reasonable . . . . .	327
10.7.2	Is It Commercially Reasonable to Dispose of Collateral at Wholesale? . . . . .	327
10.7.2.1	Article 9 Language Regarding Wholesale Dispositions . . . . .	327
10.7.2.2	Dealer Justifications for Wholesale Disposition . . . . .	329
10.7.3	Challenging a Creditor’s Choice of a Private, Non-Auction Wholesale Disposition . . . . .	329
10.7.4	Challenging Creditor’s Choice of “Dealer Only” Automobile Auction . . . . .	330
10.7.4.1	Introduction . . . . .	330
10.7.4.2	Dealer Only Automobile Auctions Are Not a “Recognized Market” . . . . .	330
10.7.4.3	Dealer Only Automobile Auctions Do Not Conform to “Reasonable Practices Among Dealers in the Type of Property” . . . . .	331
10.7.4.4	Evidence of Results of Dealer Only Auctions . . . . .	331
10.8	Requirements for a Commercially Reasonable Sale . . . . .	332
10.8.1	Introduction . . . . .	332
10.8.2	Manner of Conducting an Auction . . . . .	332
10.8.3	Sold to Highest Offer . . . . .	333
10.8.4	Location of Sale . . . . .	333
10.8.5	Adequate Advertisement . . . . .	333
10.8.6	Methods Other Than Public Advertising to Attract Buyers . . . . .	336
10.8.7	Availability of Collateral for Inspection . . . . .	336
10.8.8	Need for Appraisal . . . . .	337
10.8.9	Good Faith Bargaining Requirement . . . . .	337
10.9	Sale Price and Commercial Reasonableness . . . . .	338
10.9.1	Low Price Is a Persistent Problem in Repossession Sales . . . . .	338
10.9.2	Low Price Is a Factor in Commercial Reasonableness and Triggers Special Scrutiny . . . . .	338
10.9.3	Is the Resale Price a Term of the Sale That Must Be Commercially Reasonable? . . . . .	340
10.9.4	Special Statutory Protections Against Below-Market Resale Prices . . . . .	341
10.9.5	Determining a Reasonable Sale Price . . . . .	341
10.9.5.1	Using Pricing Guides and Internet Resources to Establish Market Value . . . . .	341
10.9.5.2	Purchaser’s Resale Price . . . . .	342
10.9.5.3	Other Methods to Establish Market Value . . . . .	343
10.9.6	Rebutting Creditor Justifications for Low Resale Prices . . . . .	343
10.10	Purchase by Secured Party or Insider, or Pursuant to Recourse Agreement; Revolving Repossession Schemes . . . . .	344
10.10.1	Secured Party May Not Purchase at Private Sale . . . . .	344
10.10.2	Secured Party’s Purchase at Sham Public Sale or Commercially Unreasonable Public Sale . . . . .	344
10.10.3	Low-Price Sales to Insiders . . . . .	345
10.10.4	Repurchase (Recourse) Agreements . . . . .	346
10.10.4.1	Does Transferring the Obligation or the Collateral Back to the Dealer Constitute the Article 9 Disposition? . . . . .	346
10.10.4.2	Requirements If Dealer Assumes Secured Party’s Rights and Duties . . . . .	346
10.10.5	“Churning” or Revolving Repossession Schemes . . . . .	347
10.11	Rights of Purchasers at Repossession Sales . . . . .	348

11.1.1	Consumer’s Right to Surplus and Liability for Deficiency . . . . .	351
11.1.2	Consumer’s Right to a Surplus . . . . .	351
11.1.2.1	Right to Surplus After Sale of Collateral . . . . .	351
11.1.2.2	Right to Surplus When Creditor Retains Collateral (Strict Foreclosure) . . . . .	351
11.1.2.3	Consumer Remedies for Creditor’s Failure to Pay Surplus . . . . .	352
11.2	Deficiency or Surplus Calculation Must Be Explained to Consumer . . . . .	352
11.2.1	General . . . . .	352
11.2.2	Form and Content of Explanation . . . . .	353
11.2.3	Remedies for Failure to Comply . . . . .	353
11.3	Calculating the Deficiency or Surplus . . . . .	354
11.3.1	Introduction . . . . .	354
11.3.2	The Balance Due on the Debt . . . . .	354
11.3.2.1	The Remainder Due on the Debt Before Adjustments . . . . .	354
11.3.2.2	Unearned Interest Rebates . . . . .	355
11.3.2.2.1	Acceleration treated as prepayment in computing rebates . . . . .	355
11.3.2.2.2	Computing interest rebates . . . . .	355
11.3.2.2.3	The effect of the consumer’s waiver of the right to a rebate. . . . .	356
11.3.2.2.4	Consumer remedies for failure to rebate unearned interest. . . . .	356
11.3.2.3	Interest and Penalties After Acceleration . . . . .	356
11.3.2.4	Force-Placed Insurance Premiums Hidden in a Revised Payment Schedule . . . . .	356
11.3.2.5	Credits to the Consumer for Insurance Claim Payments . . . . .	357
11.3.3	Insurance Rebates . . . . .	357
11.3.3.1	Introduction. . . . .	357
11.3.3.2	Determining What Insurance the Consumer Has Purchased . . . . .	358
11.3.3.3	Canceling the Insurance and Calculating the Rebate . . . . .	358
11.3.4	Credit to Consumer for Collateral’s Value . . . . .	359
11.3.4.1	Introduction. . . . .	359
11.3.4.2	Transactions Not Qualifying As UCC Sales . . . . .	359
11.3.4.3	When Sale Involves Additional Property or Charges . . . . .	359
11.3.4.4	When Collateral Purchased in Part with a Trade-In or Other Non-Cash Proceeds. . . . .	359
11.3.5	Determining the Collateral’s Value After Disposition to an Insider . . . . .	360
11.3.5.1	Special Rule for Determining Value . . . . .	360
11.3.5.2	Who Is an Insider? . . . . .	361
11.3.5.3	Practical Applications of the Insider Rules . . . . .	362
11.3.5.4	Consumer Remedies for Insider Sales . . . . .	363
11.3.5.5	Proof Issues. . . . .	363
11.3.5.5.1	The burden of proof generally. . . . .	363
11.3.5.5.2	Burden of proof for consumer transactions. . . . .	363
11.3.5.5.3	Evidence as to the range of prices at an arm’s length sale . . . . .	364
11.3.6	Deductions for Repossession-Related Expenses. . . . .	364
11.3.6.1	Expenses of Seizing and Storing the Collateral . . . . .	364
11.3.6.2	Expenses of Reconditioning or Repairing the Collateral . . . . .	365
11.3.6.2.1	When such expenses are valid. . . . .	365
11.3.6.2.2	Computing creditor expenses . . . . .	366
11.3.6.3	Selling Expenses . . . . .	366
11.3.6.4	Attorney Fees . . . . .	367
11.3.6.4.1	General . . . . .	367
11.3.6.4.2	Does the contract authorize attorney fees? . . . . .	368
11.3.6.4.3	Does state law allow attorney fees? . . . . .	368
11.3.6.4.4	Attorney fees when the consumer prevails . . . . .	368

Chapter 12

Defending a Deficiency Action

12.1	Introduction . . . . .	369
12.1.1	Importance of Defending a Deficiency Action . . . . .	369
12.1.2	How to Approach Defending a Deficiency Action . . . . .	369

12.2	Creditor’s Right to a Deficiency	370
12.2.1	General	370
12.2.2	Creditor Can Both Seize Collateral and Sue on Debt	370
12.2.2.1	Creditor’s Right to Exercise Remedies Simultaneously and Cumulatively	370
12.2.2.2	Limits on Creditor’s Exercise of Multiple Remedies	371
12.2.2.2.1	UCC duties of good faith and commercial reasonableness; constructive strict foreclosure	371
12.2.2.2.2	Other state law restrictions	372
12.2.2.2.3	Restrictions against double recovery	372
12.3	No Deficiency When Underlying Debt Is Extinguished	373
12.3.1	General	373
12.3.2	Payment to Assignee	374
12.3.3	Creditor’s Promise to Accept Collateral in Satisfaction of Debt	374
12.3.4	No Deficiency After Revocation of Acceptance	375
12.4	State Anti-Deficiency Statutes	376
12.4.1	Overview	376
12.4.2	Dollar Limitations on Anti-Deficiency Statutes	377
12.4.3	Are Consumer Loans or Only Credit Sales Covered?	378
12.4.4	Type of Goods Covered	379
12.4.5	The Illinois Statute’s Scope	379
12.4.6	Excessive Damage to the Collateral May Give Rise to a Creditor Cause of Action	379
12.4.7	Effect of Anti-Deficiency Statute on Judicial Sale of Property Pursuant to a Judgment Lien	380
12.4.8	Has the Creditor Made an Election?	380
12.4.9	Remedies Under Anti-Deficiency Judgment Statutes	380
12.5	Creditor’s Actions May Preclude a Deficiency: Constructive Strict Foreclosure, Estoppel, Waiver, and Related Theories	380
12.5.1	Introduction	380
12.5.2	Constructive Strict Foreclosure Under Former Article 9	381
12.5.3	Overview of Constructive Strict Foreclosure Under Revised Article 9	381
12.5.4	Creditor’s Sale of Collateral to Itself	382
12.5.5	Wrongful Use of Collateral	382
12.5.6	Abandoning Collateral As Worthless	383
12.5.7	Delay in Sale of Collateral	383
12.5.8	Absolute Bar As an Alternative Theory	384
12.5.9	Theories When Creditor Leads Consumer to Believe That Return of Collateral Will Discharge the Debt	384
12.5.9.1	Introduction	384
12.5.9.2	Estoppel	384
12.5.9.3	Waiver	385
12.5.9.4	Accord and Satisfaction	385
12.5.9.5	Rescission and Satisfaction	386
12.6	Defective Disposition As Defense to Deficiency Action	387
12.6.1	Creditor’s Burden and Overview of Consumer Remedies When Burden Not Met	387
12.6.1.1	Burden on Creditor to Prove All Aspects of Sale Commercially Reasonable	387
12.6.1.2	Must the Consumer Place the Secured Party’s Compliance with Article 9 in Issue?	389
12.6.1.3	What Evidence Is Necessary to Meet Creditor’s Burden?	390
12.6.1.4	Impact of Defective Disposition on Right to Deficiency	391
12.6.2	The Absolute Bar Approach	392
12.6.2.1	States Adopting the Absolute Bar Rule	392
12.6.2.2	Violations Triggering the Absolute Bar	392
12.6.2.3	Operation of the Absolute Bar Rule	392
12.6.2.4	Justification for the Absolute Bar Rule	393
12.6.3	The Rebuttable Presumption Theory	394

12.6.3.1 General . . . . . 394

12.6.3.2 Distinguishing Rebuttable Presumption Precedent in Arguing for an Absolute Bar Approach. . . . . 394

12.6.3.3 Operation of the Rebuttable Presumption Approach . . . . . 395

12.6.4 The Set-Off Theory . . . . . 396

12.6.5 State-by-State Survey . . . . . 396

12.6.6 Effect on Right to Deficiency of Failure to Send Explanation of Calculations . . . . . 406

12.6.7 Special Protections Against Deficiency Judgments Under Navajo and Other Tribal Law . . . . . 406

12.7 Statute of Limitations for Creditor’s Deficiency Claim . . . . . 407

12.8 Procedural Defenses, State Notice Requirements, and Elements of Creditor’s Claim . . . . . 408

12.8.1 Is the Plaintiff the Correct Party? . . . . . 408

12.8.2 Special Notice Requirements As Precondition to a Deficiency . . . . . 410

12.8.3 Special Pleading and Venue Requirements . . . . . 412

12.8.4 Elements Creditor Must Prove . . . . . 412

12.9 Cosigners and Other Sureties’ Defenses to Deficiency Action . . . . . 412

12.9.1 Introduction . . . . . 412

12.9.1.1 Nature of Cosigner’s Liability . . . . . 412

12.9.1.2 Cosigner’s Right to Assert Defenses the Principal Obligor Could Assert . . . . . 413

12.9.1.3 Special Defenses and Protections for Cosigners;
Does Article 3 or the Common Law Govern? . . . . . 414

12.9.2 Cosigner Definition Under Article 3 . . . . . 415

12.9.2.1 Introduction. . . . . 415

12.9.2.2 Definition of Accommodation Party Under 1990 and 2002
Versions of Article 3 . . . . . 415

12.9.2.3 Definitions Under Pre-1990 Version of Article 3 . . . . . 416

12.9.3 Defenses Available to Cosigners Under Article 3 . . . . . 416

12.9.3.1 General . . . . . 416

12.9.3.2 1990 Version of Article 3 . . . . . 416

12.9.3.2.1 Extension of due date . . . . . 416

12.9.3.2.2 Modification of terms of obligation. . . . . 417

12.9.3.2.3 Creditor’s impairment of collateral. . . . . 417

12.9.3.2.4 Release of principal obligor . . . . . 417

12.9.3.2.5 Waiver . . . . . 417

12.9.3.2.6 Defenses when accommodation party’s status is unknown to creditor. . . . . 418

12.9.3.3 Defenses Under 2002 Revisions to Article 3 . . . . . 418

12.9.3.4 Defenses in New York. . . . . 418

12.9.3.4.1 Payment extensions and other modifications of terms . . . . . 418

12.9.3.4.2 Impairment of collateral as defense to deficiency. . . . . 418

12.9.3.4.3 Reservation of rights may defeat these defenses. . . . . 419

12.9.4 Defenses Available to Cosigners Under the Common Law . . . . . 419

12.9.4.1 Relevance of Common Law Rules . . . . . 419

12.9.4.2 Discharge of Guarantor Under Common Law Rules . . . . . 419

12.9.4.3 Creditor’s Failure to Reveal Risks of Guarantee As Defense to Deficiency . . . . . 422

12.9.5 Cosigners’ Rights Under UCC Articles 1 and 9 . . . . . 423

12.9.5.1 Cosigner’s Right to Notice of Sale and a Commercially
Reasonable Disposition of the Collateral . . . . . 423

12.9.5.1.1 Cosigners as “secondary obligors” under Article 9. . . . . 423

12.9.5.1.2 Cosigners’ rights after repossession . . . . . 423

12.9.5.2 Creditor’s Duty of Good Faith to Surety . . . . . 424

12.9.6 Creditor’s Duty to Make Disclosures to Cosigner . . . . . 424

12.9.6.1 Federal Trade Commission Cosigner Requirements. . . . . 424

12.9.6.2 State Cosigner Statutes . . . . . 425

12.9.7 Surety’s Claims Against the Principal Debtor. . . . . 426

12.10 Raising Defenses to FDIC or RTC Deficiency Actions . . . . . 426

Chapter 13

Affirmative Consumer Remedies in Repossession Cases

13.1	Introduction	429
13.2	UCC § 9-625 Remedies	429
13.2.1	In General	429
13.2.2	Injunctive Relief	430
13.2.3	Actual Damages	430
13.2.3.1	Availability of Actual Damages	430
13.2.3.2	Components of Actual Damages; Attorney Fees	430
13.2.4	Statutory Damages Under UCC § 9-625(c)(2)	431
13.2.4.1	Overview	431
13.2.4.2	Violations Leading to Statutory Damages	432
13.2.4.3	Are Statutory Damages Available for Violation of Non-UCC Requirements?	433
13.2.4.4	Who May Seek Statutory Damages?	433
13.2.4.5	Statutory Damages Available Only If Collateral Is Consumer Goods	434
13.2.4.6	Calculation of Statutory Damages	434
13.2.5	Supplemental $500 Damages for Miscellaneous Violations	435
13.2.6	Class Actions, Multiple Statutory Damages, and Interrelation with Other Damage Awards	436
13.2.6.1	Class Actions	436
13.2.6.2	Multiple Statutory Damages	437
13.2.6.3	Can the Consumer Recover Both UCC Statutory Damages and Actual, Statutory, or Punitive Damages Under Non-UCC Law?	437
13.2.7	Barring a Deficiency and Recovering UCC Actual and Statutory Damages	438
13.2.7.1	Overview	438
13.2.7.2	Effect on Actual and Statutory Damages When Debtor Has Defeated Deficiency Claim in Non-Consumer Transaction or in Non-Uniform State	438
13.2.7.3	Effect on Actual and Statutory Damages When Debtor Has Defeated Deficiency Claim in Consumer Transaction in Uniform State	439
13.2.7.4	When Non-UCC State Law Specifically Bars Deficiency	440
13.2.7.5	Practical Considerations	440
13.2.8	Statute of Limitations for Claims Under § 9-625	440
13.2.8.1	What Limitations Period Applies	440
13.2.8.2	Tolling and the Discovery Rule; When the Statute of Limitations Begins to Run	441
13.3	Violation of the UCC's Good Faith Requirement	442
13.3.1	Application of Good Faith Requirement to Repossession Cases	442
13.3.2	Remedies for Violation of Good Faith Requirement	444
13.4	UDAP, RICO, and Unconscionability	446
13.4.1	Overview of UDAP Remedy	446
13.4.2	UDAP Statutes' Coverage of Repossession Practices	446
13.4.2.1	Importance of Examining the Statutory Language	446
13.4.2.2	Determining If UDAP Statute Applies to Repossession and Collection Practices	446
13.4.2.3	Determining If UDAP Statute Applies to Credit Transactions	447
13.4.3	Unfair and Deceptive Repossession Practices	448
13.4.3.1	Specific Practices Found Unfair or Deceptive	448
13.4.3.2	Violation of Other Statute As Basis for UDAP Violation	449
13.4.3.3	Contractual Creditor Remedy Provisions As UDAP Violations	450
13.4.3.4	Remedies and Limitations in UDAP Repossession Cases	450
13.4.4	Federal and State RICO and Civil Theft Claims	451
13.4.5	Unconscionability	452
13.5	Laws Regulating Repossessions, Collections, or Credit	452
13.5.1	The Federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act	452
13.5.1.1	Overview	452
13.5.1.2	FDCPA Provisions Specifically Covering Repossession Companies	452

	13.5.1.2.1	Scope	452
	13.5.1.2.2	Seizing collateral without present right to the property	453
	13.5.1.2.3	Threatening repossession without a present intent to repossess	454
	13.5.1.2.4	Repossession of property exempt by law from seizure	454
	13.5.1.3	Generally Applicable FDCPA Prohibitions	455
	13.5.1.3.1	Do generally applicable FDCPA prohibitions apply to repossession?	455
	13.5.1.3.2	Generally applicable FDCPA provisions that are relevant to repossession	457
	13.5.2	State Debt Collection Laws	457
	13.5.3	Truth in Lending Act	458
	13.5.4	State Consumer Credit Statutes	458
	13.5.5	State Limits on Professional Repossessors	459
	13.5.6	State Criminal Laws	459
13.6		Common Law Tort, Replevin, and Contract Claims	459
	13.6.1	Overview of Tort Claims	459
	13.6.2	Conversion and Trespass to Chattels	460
	13.6.2.1	Elements of Conversion	460
	13.6.2.2	Application of the Tort of Conversion to Repossession	463
	13.6.2.3	Trespass to Chattels	466
	13.6.3	Negligence	467
	13.6.4	Trespass and Invasion of Privacy	468
	13.6.5	Assaults and Related Torts	469
	13.6.6	Negligent or Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress	470
	13.6.7	Defamation	471
	13.6.8	Misrepresentation	471
	13.6.9	Other Potential Tort Causes of Action	472
	13.6.10	Actual Damages in Tort	472
	13.6.11	Punitive Damages	474
	13.6.12	Debtor's Replevin of Wrongfully Seized Property	477
	13.6.13	Contract Claims	477
13.7		Civil Rights Violations and Constitutional Remedies	478
	13.7.1	Introduction	478
	13.7.2	Cause of Action for Civil Rights Violations	478
	13.7.3	Potential Defendants in Civil Rights Actions	478
	13.7.3.1	Introduction	478
	13.7.3.2	The State's Sovereign Immunity	478
	13.7.3.3	Liability of Local Governmental Bodies	478
	13.7.3.4	Individual Law Enforcement Officers and Qualified Good Faith Immunity	480
	13.7.3.5	Liability of Private Parties	481
13.8		U.S. Bankruptcy Code	482
13.9		Consumer Remedies Based on Claims or Counterclaims Not Related to the Repossession	483
	13.9.1	Types of Claims to Raise	483
	13.9.2	Raising Seller-Related Claims Against the Creditor	483
	13.9.2.1	Scope and Effect of the FTC Holder Rule	483
	13.9.2.2	Limits on Creditor Liability for Seller-Related Claims	484
13.10		Creditor Defenses	485
	13.10.1	Debtor's Consent As Defense to Wrongful Repossession	485
	13.10.2	Debtor's Contractual Waiver of Action for Wrongful Repossession	485
	13.10.3	Contractual Waivers of Consumer's Right to Sue for Personal Property Taken with the Collateral	486
	13.10.4	Creditor's Liability for the Acts of Repossessors	486
	13.10.4.1	Employer's Respondeat Superior Liability	486
	13.10.4.2	When Repossessor Is an Independent Contractor	487

	13.10.4.2.1	Care in repossession of collateral as a non-delegable duty . . .	487
	13.10.4.2.2	Creditor's failure to exercise care in selecting a contractor . . .	489
	13.10.4.2.3	Creditor liability based on other statutes . . . . .	489
	13.10.4.3	Liability of Repossession Company or Other Third Parties . . . . .	489
13.11	Litigation Issues . . . . .		490
	13.11.1	Long-Arm Jurisdiction in Repossession Cases . . . . .	490
	13.11.2	Pleadings and Discovery . . . . .	491
	13.11.3	Arbitration Requirements . . . . .	491
	13.11.3.1	Introduction . . . . .	491
	13.11.3.2	A Dozen Reasons Why Arbitration May Not Be Required . . . . .	491
	13.11.3.2.1	No arbitration requirement for manufactured home loans . . .	491
	13.11.3.2.2	No arbitration requirement for non-purchase-money, closed-end credit extended to military personnel or dependents . . . . .	492
	13.11.3.2.3	Potential CFPB limits on arbitration . . . . .	492
	13.11.3.2.4	Arbitration when consumer files bankruptcy . . . . .	492
	13.11.3.2.5	Defendant must produce the arbitration agreement . . . . .	492
	13.11.3.2.6	When NAF is the sole designated arbitration forum . . . . .	492
	13.11.3.2.7	Has the arbitration agreement been superseded by another contract? . . . . .	493
	13.11.3.2.8	Has the creditor waived the arbitration requirement? . . . . .	493
	13.11.3.2.9	Unconscionable arbitration agreements . . . . .	493
	13.11.3.2.10	Does the arbitration agreement apply to the dispute and to the parties? . . . . .	493
	13.11.3.2.11	When arbitration clause excludes self-help remedies . . . . .	494
	13.11.3.2.12	When usury voids the contract . . . . .	494
	13.11.3.3	Does the Court or Arbitrator Determine Arbitrability? . . . . .	494
	13.11.3.4	When Arbitration May Be a Good Consumer Option . . . . .	495
	13.11.3.4.1	Class arbitration . . . . .	495
	13.11.3.4.2	Punitive damages . . . . .	495
	13.11.4	Voir Dire . . . . .	495
	13.11.5	Settlement . . . . .	495
	13.11.6	Attorney Fees . . . . .	496

Chapter 14

Consumer Leases

14.1	General . . . . .		497
	14.1.1	Scope of This Chapter . . . . .	497
	14.1.2	When Is a Lease Covered by UCC Article 9? . . . . .	497
	14.1.2.1	Introduction . . . . .	497
	14.1.2.2	History of UCC Definition of Security Interest . . . . .	498
	14.1.2.3	Standards for Distinguishing Between Security Interest and Lease . . . . .	498
	14.1.2.3.1	General . . . . .	498
	14.1.2.3.2	Per se rule that some non-terminable leases are security agreements . . . . .	498
	14.1.2.3.3	Lease can still be a security agreement if the per se rule does not apply . . . . .	500
	14.1.3	Applicable Law When Article 9 Does Not Apply . . . . .	501
	14.1.3.1	UCC Article 2A . . . . .	501
	14.1.3.2	The Federal Consumer Leasing Act . . . . .	502
	14.1.3.3	State Consumer Statutes Governing Leases . . . . .	503
	14.1.3.4	State Deceptive Practices and Debt Collection Statutes . . . . .	504
14.2	Automobile Leases . . . . .		504
	14.2.1	Does Article 9 or Article 2A Regulate Automobile Lease Repossessions? . . . . .	504
	14.2.1.1	General . . . . .	504
	14.2.1.2	Closed-End Automobile Leases . . . . .	504

14.2.1.3	Open-End Automobile Leases . . . . .	505
14.2.1.4	Rent-to-Own Automobile Transactions . . . . .	505
14.2.2	Types of Default Giving Lessor the Right to Repossess . . . . .	506
14.2.2.1	Lease Agreement Defines What Conduct Results in Default . . . . .	506
14.2.2.2	Not All Defaults Justify Repossession . . . . .	506
14.2.2.3	Limits on Lessor’s Ability to Accelerate Lease Payments . . . . .	506
14.2.2.4	Other State Law Restrictions on When Lessor Can Repossess the Vehicle . . . . .	507
14.2.2.5	Protections for Lessees in Military Service . . . . .	507
14.2.2.5.1	Protection against self-help repossession . . . . .	507
14.2.2.5.2	Right to seek stay of enforcement of lease . . . . .	507
14.2.3	Right to Cure Default or Reinstate Lease . . . . .	508
14.2.4	Repossession Must Not Breach the Peace . . . . .	508
14.2.5	Sale of Leased Vehicle After Repossession . . . . .	508
14.2.6	Understanding How Lessors Compute Consumers’ Default and Early Termination Liability . . . . .	510
14.2.6.1	Introduction . . . . .	510
14.2.6.2	Key Terms . . . . .	510
14.2.6.3	Lessor’s Core Damages, Expressed As Difference Between Actual and Paid-In Depreciation . . . . .	510
14.2.6.4	The Adjusted Lease Balance Method . . . . .	511
14.2.6.5	Calculations Based on Remaining Lease Payments Plus the Residual Value . . . . .	511
14.2.7	Actual Liability Computations Often Deviate from Method Required by the Lease . . . . .	512
14.2.7.1	Reasons for Deviations . . . . .	512
14.2.7.2	Remedies When Method Utilized Deviates from That Disclosed in the Lease . . . . .	512
14.2.8	Excessive Residual Values and Inadequate Realized Values . . . . .	513
14.2.8.1	General . . . . .	513
14.2.8.2	Realized Value Must Exceed the Residual Value . . . . .	513
14.2.8.3	Inflated Residual Values . . . . .	514
14.2.8.4	Manufacturer “Supported” Residual Values . . . . .	515
14.2.8.5	Use of a Sale Price to Determine the Realized Value . . . . .	515
14.2.8.5.1	Need the lessor sell the vehicle at early termination? . . . . .	515
14.2.8.5.2	Restrictions on vehicle sale at early termination . . . . .	516
14.2.8.6	Approaches to Avoiding a Sale to Determine Realized Value . . . . .	516
14.2.8.7	Double Counting of Excess Use and Wear Charges . . . . .	517
14.2.8.8	Selling Expenses Should Not Be Charged to the Lessee . . . . .	517
14.2.8.9	When Formula Fails to Provide Credit for Realized Value . . . . .	517
14.2.9	Other Limitations on Early Termination Charges . . . . .	517
14.2.9.1	Capitalized Cost Manipulation . . . . .	517
14.2.9.2	Rebate of Third Party Charges . . . . .	517
14.2.9.3	Extra Penalties . . . . .	518
14.2.9.4	Taxes Not Paid to Taxing Authority . . . . .	518
14.2.9.5	Servicemember’s Right to Terminate a Vehicle Lease . . . . .	518
14.2.9.6	Limits on Consumer Liability After Vehicle Loss . . . . .	518
14.2.9.7	Failure to Credit the Security Deposit or Interest on the Security Deposit . . . . .	519
14.2.10	Consumer Remedies When Lessors Seek Unreasonable Early Termination or Default Charges . . . . .	519
14.2.10.1	UCC Article 2A . . . . .	519
14.2.10.2	Federal Consumer Leasing Act . . . . .	520
14.2.10.3	State Leasing Statutes . . . . .	521
14.2.10.4	Relation of Federal and State Law Standards . . . . .	521
14.2.11	Other Defenses Against the Lessor’s Claim for an Early Termination Penalty . . . . .	521
14.2.11.1	Statute of Limitations for Lessor’s Collection of Early Termination Liability . . . . .	521
14.2.11.2	Is the Real Party in Interest Bringing the Suit? . . . . .	521
14.2.11.3	Raising Other Claims and Defenses Against the Lessor’s Collection Action . . . . .	522

14.3	Rent-to-Own Transactions . . . . .	523
14.3.1	Introduction . . . . .	523
14.3.2	Does Article 9 Apply? . . . . .	523
14.3.2.1	Has State Enacted a Statute Exempting RTO Transactions from Article 9? . . . . .	523
14.3.2.2	If RTO Transactions Are Not Explicitly Exempt, Do They Meet Article 9’s Coverage Requirements? . . . . .	525
14.3.3	Do State Credit Laws Apply to RTO Transactions? . . . . .	527
14.3.3.1	Interrelationship of RTO and State Credit Laws . . . . .	527
14.3.3.2	Applicability of State Credit Laws to RTO When RTO Not Explicitly Exempted . . . . .	527
14.3.3.2.1	Importance of the exact wording of the state credit law . . . . .	527
14.3.3.2.2	Importance of the parties’ intent and the nature of the transaction . . . . .	528
14.3.3.3	Application of Article 2A . . . . .	529
14.3.4	Application of Federal Consumer Leasing and Truth in Lending Acts to RTO . . . . .	529
14.3.5	Limitations on Seizure of RTO Goods . . . . .	530
14.3.5.1	Article 2A’s Prohibition on Seizures That Breach the Peace . . . . .	530
14.3.5.2	RTO Tactics for Gaining Entry into a Consumer’s Home . . . . .	530
14.3.5.3	Principal’s Liability and Punitive Damages for Breaches of the Peace . . . . .	531
14.3.5.4	Application of State Consumer Credit Statutes . . . . .	531
14.3.5.5	Application of the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act . . . . .	532
14.3.5.6	Bankruptcy Stay . . . . .	532
14.3.6	Consumer’s Right of Reinstatement . . . . .	532
14.3.7	RTO Company and Consumer Liability After Repossession . . . . .	532

Chapter 15

	Liens
15.1	Introduction . . . . .	535
15.2	Common Law Liens . . . . .	536
15.3	Construction of Lien Statutes . . . . .	537
15.4	Persons Who May Claim a Lien on Property . . . . .	538
15.5	Services and Costs That May Establish a Lien . . . . .	539
15.5.1	Introduction . . . . .	539
15.5.2	Labor and Skill . . . . .	539
15.5.3	Enhancement of Value of Property . . . . .	540
15.5.4	Lien Is for Reasonable Charges or Agreed-Upon Charges . . . . .	541
15.6	Property That May Be Subject to a Lien . . . . .	543
15.6.1	Types of Property Specified by Statute . . . . .	543
15.6.2	Property May Be Subject to a Common Law Lien . . . . .	543
15.6.3	A Lien Exists Only on the Property upon Which Work Has Been Performed . . . . .	544
15.7	Consumer Must Consent to the Services . . . . .	544
15.7.1	General . . . . .	544
15.7.2	What Constitutes Valid Consent? . . . . .	545
15.7.3	Parties Who May Consent . . . . .	546
15.7.4	Special Case of Constable’s Storage of Evicted Tenant’s Property . . . . .	547
15.7.4.1	General . . . . .	547
15.7.4.2	Warehouseman’s Rights Under UCC Article 7 . . . . .	548
15.7.4.3	Article 7 Allows Warehouseman to Sell the Property, Without Retaining the Proceeds . . . . .	548
15.8	The Lienholder’s Surrender of the Lien Property May Extinguish the Lien . . . . .	548
15.8.1	When Surrender of Possession Extinguishes Lien . . . . .	548
15.8.2	When Surrender of Possession Does Not Extinguish Lien . . . . .	550
15.8.3	Special Case of “Auto Repair” Lenders . . . . .	551
15.9	Lienholder’s Waiver of Lien . . . . .	552
15.10	Consumer’s Tender As Dissolving a Lien . . . . .	553

15.11	Lien Sales . . . . .	553
15.11.1	No Right to Sell Property for Common Law Lien . . . . .	553
15.11.2	Sale Requirements of State Lien Statutes . . . . .	554
15.11.3	Special Protections for Active Duty Servicemembers . . . . .	555
15.12	Conduct of Sale . . . . .	555
15.13	Constitutional Attacks on Enforcement of Liens . . . . .	556
15.13.1	Does the Lien Sale Involve State Action? . . . . .	556
15.13.2	Procedural Protections Required by Due Process . . . . .	557
15.13.3	Towing Cases . . . . .	558
15.14	Consumer Remedies . . . . .	560
15.14.1	Conversion . . . . .	560
15.14.2	Obtaining Release of the Property . . . . .	562
15.14.3	UDAP Remedies . . . . .	563
15.14.4	Remedies When Lienholder Damages Property . . . . .	564
15.14.5	Other Remedies . . . . .	564
Appendix A Selected Uniform Commercial Code Provisions
A.1	Introduction . . . . .	565
A.2	Selected Provisions of Article 1 Relating to Consumer Repossessions . . . . .	565
A.3	Selected Provisions of Article 2A Relating to Consumer Repossessions . . . . .	575
A.4	Selected Provisions of Article 3 Relating to Consumer Repossessions . . . . .	585
A.4.1	Introduction . . . . .	585
A.4.2	1990 Version of Article 3 . . . . .	585
A.4.3	2002 Revised Version of Article 3 . . . . .	590
A.5	Article 9 . . . . .	596
A.5.1	Selected Provisions of Revised Article 9 Relating to Consumer Repossessions . . . . .	596
A.5.2	Conversion Tables . . . . .	654
A.5.2.1	Table of Disposition of Sections in Former Article 9 and Other Code Sections . . . . .	654
A.5.2.2	Table Indicating Sources or Derivations of New Article 9 Sections and Conforming Amendments . . . . .	656
A.5.2.3	Conforming Amendments to Other Code Sections and Comments . . . . .	657
Appendix B	Summary of State Repossession Laws . . . . .	659
Appendix C Federal Statutes and Regulations Relevant to Repossession
C.1	Selected Provisions of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692–1692p . . . . .	703
C.2	Federal Rebate Statute, 15 U.S.C. § 1615 . . . . .	703
C.3	Selected Provisions of the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act, 50 U.S.C. §§ 3901–4043 . . . . .	704
C.4	Federal Trade Commission Credit Practices Rule, 16 C.F.R. Part 444 . . . . .	713
C.5	Regulations for Federally-Related Mortgages, 12 C.F.R. Part 190 . . . . .	714
Appendix D Sample Answers and Complaints
D.1	Sample Answer and Counterclaims to Deficiency Action . . . . .	719
D.2	Additional Defenses and Counterclaims Based on Sale to Insider . . . . .	724
D.3	Sample Complaint to Enjoin Sale . . . . .	724
D.4	Sample Complaint Alleging Violation of 42 U.S.C. § 1983, Conversion, and Breach of Peace . . . . .	725
D.5	Sample Class Action Complaint Alleging Churning . . . . .	726

Appendix E	Sample Repossession Discovery and Request for Admissions
E.1	Sample First Set of Interrogatories	733
E.2	Sample Document Request	736
E.3	Sample Supplemental Interrogatories for Dealer Only Auto Auction	737
E.4	Sample Second Document Request	738
E.5	Sample Request for Admissions Regarding Vehicle Valuation	738
Index		741