Summary

Credit Cards, Payday Loans, Auto Finance, and Other Non-Mortgage Credit

Innovative Thinking and Precise Authority on Predatory Lending and Other Consumer Credit

The latest on rent-a-bank attempts to evade state usury laws
The current status of the CFPB payday loan rule and state challenges to payday and auto title loans
Federal and state regulation of credit cards
New forms of predatory lending, including installment loans and bogus rent-to-own transactions
Auto and manufactured home finance, retail installment sales, and credit insurance
New standards limiting federal preemption of state and choice of state laws
Abusive tax time loans, structured settlements and cash for future income
Unique chapters cover the basics: what is interest, credit math, and a survey of federal and state credit statutes and consumer claims
Detailed explanation of litigation issues involved in litigating usury and predatory lending cases
Appendices reprint key federal statutes and rules and provide state-by-state summaries of state credit statutes

Praise

"This series written by nationally recognized experts in consumer law combines perceptive analysis with a comprehensive collection of case references, statutory laws, regulations and practice hints. These volumes should become a standard reference set for attorneys advising and litigating in consumer and credit areas.” — ABA Journal

Related Titles

1. Truth in Lending
2. Fair Debt Collection
3. Fair Credit Reporting
4. Credit Discrimination
5. Repossessions

Source URL: https://library.nclc.org/ccr

Links

[1] https://library.nclc.org/ccr/subscribe